WICKERSHAM BODY ATTACKS THIRD DEGREE

Lindberghs at Point Barrow Await Clear Skies

EAT THEIR BREAD WITHOUT BUTTER, FOOD FROM CANS

LIKE THE SETTLEMENT AND ARE NOT IRKED BY DELAYS

MONOPLANE IN PERFECT SHAPE, SUFFICIENT FUEL FOR NEXT HOP

Point Barrow, Alaska, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh ate bread without butter and food out of cans as they rested today at the northernmost tip of America awaiting clearer weather to continue their 7,000 mile vacation flight to the Orient.

Declaring they liked the settlement and were not irked by the delay, the Lindberghs attended church Sunday, visited about among the villagers and, admittedly, got a little bit homesick when they saw a white baby who reminded them of their own Charles Jr.

Their low winged, pontoon equipped monoplane, in perfect condition and with sufficient fuel in its tanks for the next leg of their flight, rode easily on a nearby river.

Although the U. S. coast guard cutter Northland had failed to reach the point with a supply of gasoline as planned, Lindbergh said he had enough fuel for the 523 mile flight to Nome.

The Northland was storm and fog bound near Icy Cape, 150 miles down the rugged coast line. Failure of the ship to arrive was the explanation given by the fliers' hosts for the lack of butter and fresh foods as well as gasoline.

Lindbergh said that on the flight to Nome he might land in the sea at the side of the Northland and pick up a supply of gasoline before going on to Nome, but that if the sea was choppy he would not attempt it.

Although the air was quite chilly here and clouds frequently blotted out the Arctic sun which at this season of the year provides light almost 24 hours a day, the weather was not as bad as reported at Nome.

Wearing heavy coats, with collars pulled up around their heads, the famous visitors spent considerable time outside. As during their visit in Aklavik, they were met everywhere with a solemn sort of adulation from the natives. They enjoyed it.

SAVES $700 IN PENNIES AS A VACATION FUND

Oquawka, Ill., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Grocer S. N. Lumbeck and his family have started out to have $700 worth of fun a penny's worth at a time.

Two years ago Lumbeck decided to save every cent piece taken in at his store. Cents were given out as change only when necessary. Each night he scooped the day's savings into a tin can. At the end of the first year, "without even missing them," he had saved enough pennies to take the whole family on a vacation through four states.

"This year we'll go farther," he said. "We've got $700 worth. And you should see folks' eyes bulge when we pull out our tin cans and start paying off the restaurant men and the ones at filling stations."

Bankrupt Mary Nolan Vows She Will Pay Every Penny She Owes

Hollywood, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Mary Nolan, screen actress, bankrupt in New York, had returned to Hollywood vowing she will pay back every penny she owes, through her own hard work.

"I went bankrupt as a financial venture, although I didn't want to," the actress said today. She added that her liabilities were only $52,000 instead of the reported $93,000.

Miss Nolan's obligations were the result of her effort to support relatives as well as herself, she said.

Before entering motion pictures, Miss Nolan was known on the Broadway stage as Imogene Wilson.

Yangtze Floods Doing Widespread Damage

London, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Floods in the Yangtze valley, the worst in 50 years, threatened to ruin the crops on which 100,000,000 Chinese depend, reports today said. A Shanghai dispatch to the London Observer said the Chinese government at Nanking had ordered about $2,500,000 worth of wheat in the United States.

GUN DUEL BETWEEN POLICE AND BANDIT AND TRAF-FIC MAKE TOLL

PATROLMAN CLAYTON A. OLSON, MINNEAPOLIS, SLAIN AS HE MADE ARREST

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—A gun duel between police and a bandit suspect and traffic fatalities caused six deaths in the Twin Cities over the week-end.

The dead: Patrolman Clayton A. Olson, Minneapolis, who was slain while attempting to arrest a suspect.

Magnus Opdahl, St. Paul, the suspect who was wounded fatally by another policeman.

Mrs. Katherine McDonald, Hopkins, who was killed in an automobile collision in Minneapolis.

Enil Anderson, St. Paul, who died Sunday from injuries received when struck by an automobile.

Louise Lindorfer, St. Paul, and her daughter, Mary, who were both hit by an auto last night.

Opdahl, 25, killed Patrolman Olson when the latter went behind a bill board to arrest the bandit suspect. An hour later, Patrolman A. J. Deslauriers fatally wounded Opdahl with two charges of buckshot.

Before he died in Minneapolis General hospital, Opdahl said: "I am sorry it happened."

In March, Opdahl was acquitted of charges of murdering his uncle, Knut Opdahl, 52-year-old bachelor farmer living near Austin. The prosecution contended that Opdahl killed his relative so he could obtain his uncle's property, valued at $10,000. In defense, Opdahl contended he was in St. Paul on the night of the alleged slaying. The uncle was found at the foot of a stairs in his home, his skull fractured.

COTTON MARKET IS DEMORALIZED

HAS AN EFFECT ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE TODAY

By ELMER C. WALZER (United Press Financial Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—The government cotton crop estimate of 15,584,000 bales for the present crop demoralized the New York cotton market at the outset today and had a sympathetic effect on the New York stock exchange where prices declined 1 to 2 points.

October cotton broke below 7 cents a pound to 6.80 cents, off 132 points to 1.32 cents a pound from the Saturday close, and the lowest level in 17 years. December cotton broke to 7 cents a pound off 1.31 cents a pound.

The first sale of U. S. Steel was made at 85 1/8 off 7-8 from the previous close. Other leading industrials were down fractions to more than a point. Westinghouse Electric opened at 58 3/8 off 3-4; Vanadium 25 1-4 off 7-8; General Motors 37 unchanged; American Can 90 off 3-4; Case 52 off 2; Public Service 76 1/4 off 1 3-4, and Worthington Pump 40 off 1 5-8.

Railroad shares continued to decline to new levels influenced by poor earnings which would remove automatically many railroad bond issues from legal lists. Banks and insurance companies were said to be unloading the carrier stocks.

New York Central broke to a new low since 1921 at 69 1-8 off 1-2; New Haven a new low since 1923 at 56 off 2 1/4. Atchafalaya lost 2 5-8 points to 138 1/4; Union Pacific lost 3 1/4 to 140.

Hiding his suitcase in some bushes, he sneaked to the lake Saturday night. Camp leaders found his body Sunday, washed up on the beach.

Night of Terror in Berlin in Which Riots Between Communists and Police Cause Alarm

VOTERS REJECT EXTREMIST PLEA TO DISSOLVE DIET

CASUALTIES UNCERTAIN, 2 POLICE OFFICERS, 1 RIOTER KILLED

15 DEMONSTRATORS IN HOSPITALS SEVERELY WOUNDED

By FREDERICK KUH (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Aug. 10.—Heavy police patrols sought to maintain order today after a night of terror in which communists and police battled during riots in the streets of the capital.

The fighting broke out after returns in the plebiscite for dissolution of the Prussian diet showed the voters had rejected the extremist political parties' demands for disbandment of the diet. Casualties remained uncertain, but it was known that two police officers and at least one demonstrator had been killed and 15 others were in hospitals suffering from severe wounds.

A statement by the Prussian government that 12 other communists had been killed was later corrected with an announcement that the number of casualties was uncertain.

Trouble started when police raided a communist meeting near Buelow Platz in the evening and communists fired on them from darkened houses. The rioting rapidly developed into organized street fighting.

The police replied to the communist rifle fire. The battle at first went against them. Reinforcements were rushed to the battle area. Barrages were laid down around houses when communist fire had come.

The shooting began at 8:30 P. M. It continued sporadically until after midnight with occasional bursts of furious fighting. Police reserves gradually gained control of the situation and the district became quiet before morning.

PROPELLOR DEFECT IS BLAMED FOR AIR LINER CRASH

KILLING 6 PEOPLE YESTERDAY AT CINCINNATI, OHIO

FALLS 300 FEET AND PLOUGHS INTO BED OF MIAMI RIVER

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—A defective propeller was blamed today for an air liner crash here yesterday killing six, including one man en route home to see his new-born baby.

An American Airways plane fell from 300 feet shortly after it left Lunken airport for Atlanta, ploughed into the bed of the Miami river, and nosed over, crumbling the cabin and crushing all aboard.

The dead: Marvin T. Odell, 23, the pilot with 4,000 hours of flying.

William J. Dewald, Fort Thomas, Ky., co-pilot.

Miss Gwenna D. Hughes, 21, Fort Thomas, Ky., just starting a vacation.

GIRL NAMES FLOYD SPEARS AS A KILLER

SHE WAS WITH LOUIS PALMER ON NIGHT WHEN HE WAS KILLED

AFTER ARREST SHE REPUDIATES STATEMENT AT COLORADO SPRINGS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Glenda King, who was with Louis Palmer on the night of July 20 when he was slain, was arrested today after she had repudiated a statement made naming Floyd Spears as the killer.

"He didn't have anything to do with it," the girl sobbed. "I just told them that story to get away from the questions they had pounded at me for almost a day and a night."

Sheriff Robert H. Jackson who had arrested the girl Saturday night when he became convinced that the story she told when she appeared at an outlying home the night of the killing with Palmer's body in an automobile was false, immediately ordered her rearrested.

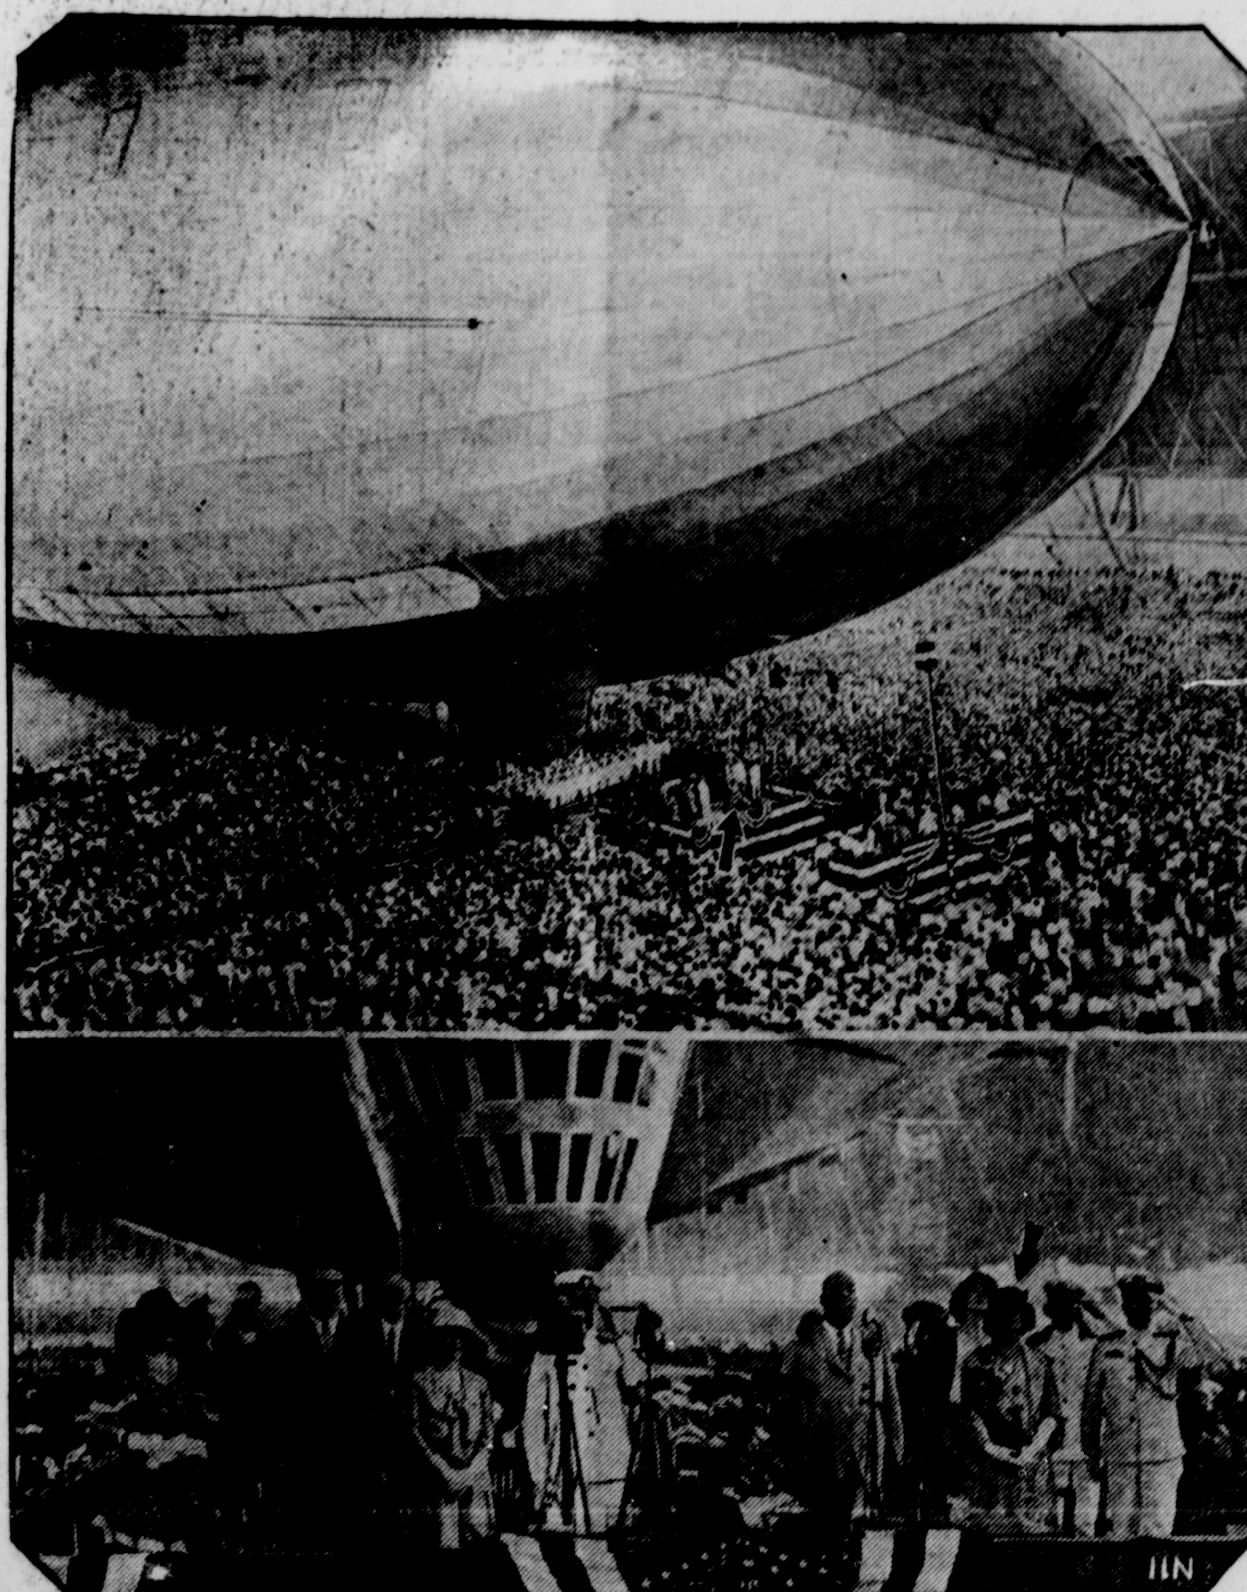

"My original story was true," the girl cried. "Someone I never saw before, a short heavy set man in overalls, came up to the car where we were parked by Prospect Lake Park and killed Louis and attacked me. I couldn't stand the questioning any longer, I had to tell something."

Spears already had been arrested and had denied implication in the crime. He was held, however, pending the eventual unravelling of the girl's story, despite his statement, and that of the Colorado Springs police, that he had an "iron-clad alibi."

The girl's statement, indicating the propeller fault caused a vibration and consequently weakening of the ship.

There was no fire. The pilot had shut off the motors before he died.

COMMISSION CITES 10 CITIES USING METHOD

CALLS ITS REPORT TO PRES. HOOVER "LAWLESSNESS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT"

SIDESTEPS ANY REFERENCE TO THE MOONEY-BILLINGS CASE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The Wickershams commission today in reporting widespread use of the third degree cited especially 10 cities in what it called "the naked ugly facts" of police brutalities and unfair prosecutions.

It called its report to President Hoover, "Lawlessness in Law Enforcement."

It sidestepped the Mooney-Billings case which in a previous report it had called "shocking to one's sense of justice." The 10 cities in which it said police third degree methods were employed, were: New York, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Newark and Detroit.

Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and El Paso were absolved of criticism on such counts, and no conclusion was announced on Dallas, Texas.

The zeal of politically ambitious prosecutors has resulted in "a deplorable prostration of the processes of justice," the commission said.

A thorough revision of American criminal procedure was recommended. States and congress were urged to act at once. Eleven suggested corrections were submitted to Mr. Hoover by the commission. Public opinion is appealed to as the primary means of bringing unfair prosecutors and police to task.

Magistrates should be authorized to examine prisoners instead of leaving them at the mercy of policemen's fists and night sticks, the commission suggested.

The Mooney-Billings case was passed over with the explanation that the commission could not sit in judgment on California courts.

In a previous report it said the case was "shocking to one's sense of justice." Many other cases were denounced in this report.

Medical methods of mentality or physically torturing prisoners until they confess to get relief were cited by the commission; neckties are pulled about the throats of prisoners; they are beaten with fists, rubber hose and telephone books; water was poured in the nose to strangle one; negroes in Texas were flogged with the cat o' nine tails; unprintable abuses of men are common.

Investigation also was made of 106 cases in the appellate courts in which third degree methods were charged between 1920 and 1930. From these cases the commission concluded the practice was wide-spread in small towns. It pointed out that 45 of the 106 guilty verdicts were reversed by the appellate courts because of use of the third degree.

"Threats and methods of intimidation are frequently used," the commission stated. "Physical brutality, illegal detention and refusal to allow access of counsel is common."

"Brutality and violence in making an arrest also are employed at times before a prisoner reaches jail in order to put him in a frame of mind which makes him more amenable to questioning afterwards."

"The third degree brutalizes the police, hardens the prisoner against society and lowers the esteem in which the administration of justice is held by society."

STIMSON HAS PLAN FOR CANCELLATION OF WAR DEBTS

London, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—The Daily Mail said today that Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson had prepared a plan for adjustment or cancellation of world war debts.

Stimson and Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald discussed international finances and the war debts question at Stimson's shooting lodge in Scotland over the week end, the Daily Mail said, after which it said Stimson prepared his plan for presentation to President Hoover.

The correspondent reported that MacDonald would sound out other interested governments.

Anna Q. Nilsson Back in Motion Pictures Again

Hollywood, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Anna Q. Nilsson, after an absence of three years from motion pictures, will return here tomorrow from a six-months visit to her home in Sweden.

Contracts await her, too, her manager, Freddie Fallick, said today.

Miss Nilsson was thrown from a horse while making a picture, and for more than a year was in a plaster cast while her broken hip mended. She is known as the "hard luck" girl of the films because of her many injuries and narrow escapes before the camera.

50 SHIPS WRECKED IN A TORNADO AT SEA NEAR TOULON

Toulon, France, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Fifty vessels were wrecked in a tornado sweeping the sea near here today.

Six bodies already have been washed ashore, and it was believed the death toll would reach 20.

The cyclone swept up mountainous seas which pounded houses to pieces along the sea front.

Throughout the night lifeboats went out to search for missing vessels.

The wind lifted roofs off houses well inland. It was feared that inland as well as ship damage might prove extensive.

4 KILLED IN FAMILY TRAGEDY, SAN FRANCISCO

MRS. FLORINE WALZ WILLIAMS, 33, CRAZED BY HER TROUBLES

KILLS HER 2 CHILDREN, 80-YEAR-OLD MOTHER AND HERSELF

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Besieged by creditors and threatened with arrest, Mrs. Florine Walz Williams, 33-year-old daughter of a once wealthy Brooklyn family and widow of the late Earle Williams, celebrated stage and screen star, killed herself, her two children and her 80-year-old mother Sunday.

The tragedy was the denouement of a four-year travail which began with Williams' sudden death and ended with his widow dissipating his $400,000 estate.

The threat of arrest by a maid, Catherine Cole, who had accused her of theft of $3,400, coupled with debts that mounted into the thousands, prompted Mrs. Williams and her mother, Mrs. Clarissa Walz, to decree death for themselves and the children, Joan, 7, and Earle, Jr., 4.

Mrs. Walz and the children were found dead and Mrs. Williams dying when a Filipino houseboy entered their locked apartment on exclusive Nob Hill through a transom yesterday. The tragedy was discovered at 9:30 A. M. On the faces of the two women and two children were cotton pads, saturated with chloroform. Florine Williams was still living, but died in central emergency hospital seven hours later without regaining consciousness.

The wholesale chloroforming was the result of a suicide pact between Florine and her 80-year-old mother, Mrs. George L. Fish asserted. Mrs. Fish, a kindly old lady, was Mrs. Williams' benefactor.

"Mrs. Walz told me she wished she could die," Mrs. Fish said. "She knew, of course, that I was aware of the impending arrest. Mrs. Williams said to me, 'I've been insane since Thursday.' It was on Thursday that she confessed to the theft of Mrs. Cole's funds."

Mrs. Williams, her mother and two children moved into the Pine Street apartment last September, accompanied by three maids, according to Mrs. Fish. The apartment rented for $175 a month. The initial $175 was all that was ever paid, Mrs. Fish said.

"When I discovered that Mrs. Williams was only making $125 a month working in a San Francisco film exchange, I insisted that she move into a less expensive apartment in the building," she added. "She didn't pay the rent on that either, but I just couldn't bear to think of evicting her with those two beautiful children."

Mrs. Fish was near tears as she unfolded the story of the tragic finale of the ever-tragic Williams family. She was very bitter against Florine Williams for killing her two children—"those beautiful, innocent little children."

H. V. HIMSL IS TO REPLACE TOURTILLOTT AS FIRE MARSHAL

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Two of the seven new deputy state fire marshals, named Saturday by Garfield W. Brown, state insurance commissioner, will take office August 15.

They are Ingworth J. Erickson who will succeed Arthur O'Dea in the Duluth district and H. V. Himsl, St. Cloud, who will replace William T. Tourtillot of Little Falls.

O'Dea and Tourtillot were among the men whose resignations were requested following disclosures by Edward J. Pearlove, state comptroller, that they had been guilty of expense account padding. Both have paid their share of the $716 alleged to have been wrongfully charged to the state via excessive expense vouchers.

Other changes in the force will be made gradually as the new men become familiar with the work of the department through accompanying the present crew in field work.

GIRL NAMES FLOYD SPEARS AS A KILLER

AFTER ARREST SHE REFUTES
STATEMENT AT COLORADO SPRINGS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Glenda King, who was with Louis Palmer on the night of July 20 when he was slain, was arrested today after she had repudiated a statement made naming Floyd Spears as the killer.

"He didn't have anything to do with it," the girl sobbed. "I just told them that story to get away from the questions they had pounded at me for almost a day and a night."

Sheriff Robert H. Jackson who had arrested the girl Saturday night when he became convinced that the story she told when she appeared at an outlying home the night of the killing with Palmer's body in an automobile was false, immediately ordered her rearrested.

"My original story was true," the girl cried. "Someone I never saw before, a short heavy set man in overalls, came up to the car where we were parked by Prospect Lake Park and killed Louis and attacked me. I couldn't stand the questioning any longer. I had to tell something."

Spears already had been arrested and had denied implication in the crime. He was held, however, pending the eventual unravelling of the girl's story, despite his statement, and that of the Colorado Springs police, that he had an "iron-clad alibi."

The threat of arrest by a maid, Catherine Cole, who had accused her of theft of $3,400, coupled with debts that mounted into the thousands, prompted Mrs. Williams and her mother, Mrs. Clarissa Walz, to decree death for themselves and the children, Joan, 7, and Earle, Jr., 4.

Mrs. Walz and the children were found dead and Mrs. Williams dying when a Filipino houseboy entered their locked apartment on exclusive Nob Hill through a transom yesterday.

The tragedy was discovered at 9:30 A. M. On the faces of the two women and two children were cotton pads, saturated with chloroform. Florine Williams was still living, but died in central emergency hospital seven hours later without regaining consciousness.

The wholesale chloroforming was the result of a suicide pact between Florine and her 80-year-old mother, Mrs. George L. Fish asserted. Mrs. Fish, a kindly old lady, was Mrs. Williams' benefactor.

"Mrs. Walz told me she wished she could die," Mrs. Fish said. "She knew, of course, that I was aware of the impending arrest. Mrs. Williams said to me, 'I've been insane since Thursday.' It was on Thursday that she confessed to the theft of Mrs. Cole's funds."

Mrs. Williams, her mother and two children moved into the Pine Street apartment last September, accompanied by three maids, according to Mrs. Fish. The apartment rented for $175 a month. The initial $175 was all that was ever paid, Mrs. Fish said.

"When I discovered that Mrs. Williams was only making $125 a month working in a San Francisco film exchange, I insisted that she move into a less expensive apartment in the building," she added. "She didn't pay the rent on that either, but I just couldn't bear to think of evicting her with those two beautiful children."

Mrs. Fish was near tears as she unfolded the story of the tragic finale of the ever-tragic Williams family. She was very bitter against Florine Williams for killing her two children—"those beautiful, innocent little children!"

H. V. HIMSL IS TO REPLACE TOURTILLOTT
AS FIRE MARSHAL

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Two of the seven new deputy state fire marshals, named Saturday by Garfield W. Brown, state insurance commissioner, will take office August 15.

They are Ingworth J. Erickson who will succeed Arthur O'Dea in the Duluth district and H. V. Himsl, St. Cloud, who will replace William T. Tourtillot of Little Falls.

O'Dea and Tourtillot were among the men whose resignations were requested following disclosures by Edward J. Pearlove, state comptroller, that they had been guilty of expense account padding. Both have paid their share of the $716 alleged to have been wrongfully charged to the state via excessive expense vouchers.

Other changes in the force will be made gradually as the new men become familiar with the work of the department through accompanying the present crew in field work.

50 SHIPS WRECKED IN A TORNADO AT SEA NEAR TOULON

Toulon, France, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Fifty vessels were wrecked in a tornado sweeping the sea near here today.

Six bodies already have been washed ashore, and it was believed the death toll would reach 30.

The cyclone swept up mountainous seas which pounded houses to pieces along the sea front.

Throughout the night lifeboats went out to search for missing vessels.

The wind lifted roofs off houses well inland. It was feared that inland as well as ship damage might prove extensive.

4 KILLED IN FAMILY TRAGEDY, SAN FRANCISCO

MRS. FLORINE WALZ WILLIAMS,
33, CRAZED BY HER
TROUBLES

KILLS HER 2 CHILDREN, 80-YEAR-OLD MOTHER AND HERSELF

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Besieged by creditors and threatened with arrest, Mrs. Florine Walz Williams, 33-year-old daughter of a once wealthy Brooklyn family and widow of the late Earle Williams, celebrated stage and screen star, killed herself, her two children and her 80-year-old mother Sunday.

The tragedy was the denouement of a four-year travail which began with Williams' sudden death and ended with his widow dissipating his $400,000 estate.

The threat of arrest by a maid, Catherine Cole, who had accused her of theft of $3,400, coupled with debts that mounted into the thousands, prompted Mrs. Williams and her mother, Mrs. Clarissa Walz, to decree death for themselves and the children, Joan, 7, and Earle, Jr., 4.

Mrs. Walz and the children were found dead and Mrs. Williams dying when a Filipino houseboy entered their locked apartment on exclusive Nob Hill through a transom yesterday.

The tragedy was discovered at 9:30 A. M. On the faces of the two women and two children were cotton pads, saturated with chloroform. Florine Williams was still living, but died in central emergency hospital seven hours later without regaining consciousness.

The wholesale chloroforming was the result of a suicide pact between Florine and her 80-year-old mother, Mrs. George L. Fish asserted. Mrs. Fish, a kindly old lady, was Mrs. Williams' benefactor.

"Mrs. Walz told me she wished she could die," Mrs. Fish said. "She knew, of course, that I was aware of the impending arrest. Mrs. Williams said to me, 'I've been insane since Thursday.' It was on Thursday that she confessed to the theft of Mrs. Cole's funds."

Mrs. Fish was near tears as she unfolded the story of the tragic finale of the ever-tragic Williams family. She was very bitter against Florine Williams for killing her two children—"those beautiful, innocent little children!"

Investigation also was made of 106 cases in the appellate courts in which third degree methods were charged between 1920 and 1930. From these cases the commission concluded the practice was wide-spread in small towns. It pointed out that 45 of the 106 guilty verdicts were reversed by the appellate courts because of use of the third degree.

"Threats and methods of intimidation are frequently used," the commission stated. "Physical brutality, illegal detention and refusal to allow access of counsel is common."

"Brutality and violence in making an arrest also are employed at times before a prisoner reaches jail in order to put him in a frame of mind which makes him more amenable to questioning afterwards."

"The third degree brutalizes the police, hardens the prisoner against society and lowers the esteem in which the administration of justice is held by society."

OF WAR DEBTS

London, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—The Daily Mail said today that Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson had prepared a plan for adjustment or cancellation of world war debts.

Stimson and Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald discussed international finances and the war debts question at Stimson's shooting lodge in Scotland over the week end, the Daily Mail said, after which it said Stimson prepared his plan for presentation to President Hoover.

The correspondent reported that MacDonald would sound out other interested governments.

COMMISSION CITES 10 CITIES USING METHOD

CALLS ITS REPORT TO PRES.
HOOVER "LAWLESSNESS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT"

SIDESTEPS ANY REFERENCE TO THE MOONEY-BILL-
INGS CASE

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The Wickersham commission today in reporting widespread use of the third degree cited especially 10 cities in what it called "the naked ugly facts" of police brutalities and unfair prosecutions.

It called its report to President Hoover, "Lawlessness in Law Enforcement."

It sidestepped the Mooney-Billings case which in a previous report it had called "shocking to one's sense of justice." The 10 cities in which it said police third degree methods were employed, were: New York, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Newark and Detroit.

Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and El Paso were absolved of criticism on such counts, and no conclusion was announced on Dallas, Texas.

The zeal of politically ambitious prosecutors has resulted in "a deplorable prostration of the processes of justice," the commission said.

A thorough revision of American criminal procedure was recommended. States and congress were urged to act at once. Eleven suggested corrections were submitted to Mr. Hoover by the commission. Public opinion is appealed to as the primary means of bringing unfair prosecutions and police to time.

Magistrates should be authorized to examine prisoners instead of leaving them at the mercy of policemen's fists and night sticks, the commission suggested.

The Mooney-Billings case was passed over with the explanation that the commission could not sit in judgment on California courts.

In a previous report it said the case was "shocking to one's sense of justice." Many other cases were denounced in this report.

Medical methods of mentality or physically torturing prisoners until they confess to get relief were cited by the commission; neckties are pulled about the throats of prisoners; they are beaten with fists, rubber hose and telephone books; water was poured in the nose to strangle one; negroes in Texas were flogged with the cat o' nine tails; unprintable abuses of men are common.

Investigation also was made of 106 cases in the appellate courts in which third degree methods were charged between 1920 and 1930. From these cases the commission concluded the practice was wide-spread in small towns. It pointed out that 45 of the 106 guilty verdicts were reversed by the appellate courts because of use of the third degree.

YANKEE SAILORS OPENED HAWAII TO CIVILIZATION

The United States may well thank Boston and its daring men of the sea for the fact that Hawaii now flies the Stars and Stripes rather than the Tricolor or the Union Jack. A Spanish navigator discovered the islands in 1555, but his country laid no claim on them and they were virtually forgotten. The British Captain Cook visited the islands in 1778 and named them the Sandwich Islands. Still the islands were practically unknown. Then, following the close of the American Revolution, American ships began to sail the seven seas in growing numbers, and in 1789 the first ship flying the American flag—from Boston—visited the Hawaiians. It was the first of many from the same port, carrying traders, whalers and adventurers; and soon the natives learned of the Republic on the continent to the east and to acquire the ways of the white men.

The Boston traders found each of the islands under a separate king, with two rival rulers on Hawaii, the largest of the islands. One of the latter obtained firearms and ammunition from the traders and got their assistance in building a "navy." With this American help he became the "Napoleon of the Pacific," conquered the other islands, and as Kamehameha I ruled over the consolidated kingdom. His line died out with Queen Liliuokalani, and the United States came into control.

Need Not Visit Europe for Literary Research

Two professors of English at Southern Methodist university published a book, "Famous Editions of English Poets," in which 18 volumes of verse are reproduced in full, just as they appeared in the originals, with photographic copies of the old title pages. This involved a vast amount of labor and research, and was done at Oxford university and the British museum, where original copies of such works as Shakespeare's sonnets, Pope's "Essay on Criticism," Byron's "The Prisoner of Chillon" and Tennyson's poems were available for copying. On returning to this country, the Texas Weekly relates, the scholars were surprised to learn that all the rare volumes they had consulted overseas could have been found in libraries of their own state. This is an amusing incident, but it is more: it indicates how our country has made intellectual progress while it expanded economically, and that it has libraries as well as skyscrapers to be proud of. It is not always necessary to rush to Europe for a draught from the Pierian spring.

Yankee Sailors Opened Hawaii to Civilization

The United States may well thank Boston and its daring men of the sea for the fact that Hawaii now flies the Stars and Stripes rather than the Tricolor or the Union Jack. A Spanish navigator discovered the islands in 1555, but his country laid no claim on them and they were virtually forgotten. The British Captain Cook visited the islands in 1778 and named them the Sandwich islands. Still the islands were practically unknown. Then, following the close of the American Revolution, American ships began to sail the seven seas in growing numbers, and in 1791 the first ship flying the American flag—from Boston—visited the Hawaiians. It was the first of many from the same port, carrying traders, whalers and adventurers; and soon the natives learned of the Republic on the continent to the east and to acquire the ways of the white men.

The Boston traders found each of the islands under a separate king, with two rival rulers on Hawaii, the largest of the islands. One of the latter obtained firearms and ammunition from the traders and got their assistance in building a "navy." With this American help he became the "Napoleon of the Pacific," conquered the other islands, and as Kamehameha I ruled over the consolidated kingdom. His line died out with Queen Liliuokalani, and the United States came into control.

Need Not Visit Europe for Literary Research

Two professors of English at Southern Methodist university published a book, "Famous Editions of English Poets," in which 18 volumes of verse are reproduced in full, just as they appeared in the originals, with photographic copies of the old title pages. This involved a vast amount of labor and research, and was done at Oxford university and the British museum, where original copies of such works as Shakespeare's sonnets, Pope's "Essay on Criticism," Byron's "The Prisoner of Chillon" and Tennyson's poems were available for copying. On returning to this country, the Texas Weekly relates, the scholars were surprised to learn that all the rare volumes they had consulted overseas could have been found in libraries of their own state. This is an amusing incident, but it is more; it indicates how our country has made intellectual progress while it expanded economically, and that it has libraries as well as skyscrapers to be proud of. It is not always necessary to rush to Europe for a draught from the Pierian spring.

GRASSHOPPERS IN A HALF DOZEN MIDWEST STATES

DESTROYED CROPS BUT DID NOT AFFECT BUSINESS CON-DITIONS

1 STATE EXPECTS TO BENEFIT MATERIALLY FROM INSECT INVASION

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 10.—(UP)—The cloud of grayish-yellow grasshoppers which in past weeks has settled upon half a dozen mid-western states, destroying crops, leaving only barren fields behind them, has had, strangely enough, only a negligible effect on business conditions in the territories affected, a United Press survey revealed today.

And what is even more strange, at least one state expects to benefit materially from the insect invasion.

The grasshopper invasion in South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Colorado, came as the last of a long succession of disasters striking at the very livelihood of the farmer.

His wheat crop, one of the best in history, had sold for about half the cost of production. The drought of last year had not yet been forgotten. His banks, many of them, had gone to the wall.

Then came the hoppers, to destroy the corn crop, to leave, in the sections most affected, only barren waste land behind them.

The farmer, already inured to hard luck, has taken it philosophically, and is carrying on just as before, the United Press survey showed.

In come communities, it is true, business houses are reporting fewer sales than before, but these regions are few.

The effect on the whole territory will be lessened by co-operation of bankers and business men with the farmer in his time of stress. Collections are not being pressed as they are in normal times. Credit is easier. The feeling is general that the farmer, sooner or later, will run into better times.

And meanwhile, he must live. On that basis, the informal debt moratoriums, the long-term credit plans now so general in the farm belt have been worked out.

Sections of Nebraska and South Dakota have been hardest hit by the grasshopper scourge, but even in these states the effect on business has been slight.

In Kansas, farmers got the jump on the hoppers, beginning a campaign of extermination when it first was noticed that an unusual number of the insects was being hatched. This campaign has saved most of the crops in that state.

Minnesota was hard hit in a few sections, but reports from that state indicated today that only in a few communities had business fallen off to any large extent. The big cities of the state, the supply centers for the entire trade territory, have not as yet felt the effect of the plague.

In Colorado the situation is much the same. Locally, business may suffer to some extent, but, over the state, farmers have accepted their lot with resignation and are going forward as usual, buying what they need, hoping for better times.

The sixth state, Iowa, presents a strange paradox. A few counties have been looted of crops by the insect invaders but crops over the remainder of the state have been good. And the result is that merchants expect a better grade than usual, due to crop losses in both Dakota and Nebraska which may make for better commodity prices for the Iowa farmer.

ROASTING CAN MAKE OR SPOIL THE FLAVOR OF COFFEE

Hills Bros.' Patented Process
Removes Risk of Ruining
Roast—Assures Match-
less Flavor, Always

Roasting determines the flavor of coffee. Too much or too little can cause dissatisfaction. But there is a perfect degree of roast! Hills Bros. invented and patented a process that insures that degree for every pound. It is called Controlled Roasting.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so a perfect, unvarying degree of roast is secured for Hills Bros. Coffee by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The rare blend passes through the roasters in a steady, unvarying stream. And instead of guessing—as is necessary with ordinary, bulk methods—Hills Bros. control the temperature of the roast automatically. Every berry is perfectly roasted. As a result, every pound has a matchless, unvarying flavor.

To keep this delicious coffee fresh, Hills Bros. pack it in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of the cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

ANXIETY EXPRESSED OVER FLIER CRAMER

A United Press dispatch from Oslo, Norway, states that inquiries along the south coast of Norway today failed to elicit any trace whatever of Parker D. Cramer, American flier, long overdue at Copenhagen on the last lap of a transatlantic flight.

Anxiety grew throughout Scandinavia as hours passed and no word of the flier was heard.

The Rockford, Ill., flier is engaged in mapping out a projected air mail route across the subarctic regions. He hopped off Friday from Reykjavik, Iceland, for the Faroe Islands, nearly lost his life landing at the Islands, reached Sydney Island and left for Berg or Stavanger, Norway, at noon Saturday.

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Capt. Riser Larsen, famous Norwegian aviator and explorer and chief of the air force at Bergen, was ready today to begin a search for Parker D. Cramer, missing American aviator, when weather conditions permitted.

Capt. Larsen reported that two airplanes were ready to start to Cramer's relief as soon as a storm in the Bergen region moderated and the pilots had any information regarding his possible whereabouts.

It was believed here that Cramer, long overdue at Copenhagen on the last lap of a transatlantic flight, was drifting toward Denmark.

DOYLE, N. Y. VETERINARIAN, IN CONTEMPT

HIGH COURT DECIDES HE MUST
ANSWER INVESTIGATING
BODY'S QUESTIONS

AS TO WHETHER HE PAID A BRIBE TAKEN BY A PUBL- IC OFFICER

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(UP)—The court of appeals today affirmed in part a lower court decision which held William F. Doyle, New York City horse doctor, in contempt.

The high court modified the appellate division's ruling holding Doyle in contempt only as far as it concerned questions as to whether he bribed public officers, but held that the New York City investigating committee is not empowered to give immunity to witnesses.

It cleared the way for the committee to undertake a thorough investigation of municipal conditions in New York.

"The grant of immunity," the decision read, "that the legislative resolution purported to give should be accomplished and would be valid if carried out by law rather than by resolution."

The high court decided that Doyle "must answer as to whether he paid a bribe which was taken by a public officer or go to jail for 30 days."

He is not required to answer any questions tending to establish a general conspiracy or attempted bribery, however, the high court ruled.

New York, Aug. 10.—Samuel Seabury said today that if his first understanding of the courts of appeals decision in the case of William F. Doyle was confirmed by further study, he would ask Governor Roosevelt to call a special session of the legislature to broaden the powers of the city wide legislative investigating committee.

The counsel to the committee said he was especially anxious to have enacted a law compelling all witnesses to answer all questions.

SHARP INCREASE IN PURCHASES

RETAIL STORES TO DO MORE
BUSINESS NEXT MONTH

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Next month will witness a sharp increase in purchases from retail stores, as the average consumer "is under stocked," according to J. D. Currenthers, Oklahoma City, Okla., president of the American Retailers Association which opened its semi-annual convention here today.

"As soon as fall comes, these consumers will be in the market to buy," Currenthers said, urging merchants to be well stocked with necessities "which most people are in need of."

"One year of depression contributes more to business efficiency than five years of so-called prosperity. During the past year retail business has found more leaks and short cuts, and made greater strides toward putting its house in order than it has made during the past five years," said the association head.

A style show, featuring new shoe, millinery and garment creations will be a daily highlight of the meeting.

NON-STOP FLIGHT ON TO TEGUCIGALPA

CAPT. LISANDRE GARAY LEAVES
FLOYD BENNETT AIR-
PORT, N. Y.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 10.—(UP)—A non-stop flight from the Floyd Bennett airport, New York, to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, was underway today, according to Albert Simon, Wilmington attorney for Captain Lisandre Garay.

Captain Garay started the flight at 5 P. M. yesterday in his plane "Lampira," in what was announced as a test flight at the Floyd Bennett field. Much concern had been felt for Garay's safety.

The statement from Simon read: "Captain Garay confided to me at the field yesterday afternoon that if he succeeded in getting the plane off the ground with its load he would head south and not land until he reached the capital of his native country."

Captain Garay lived here for about three months awaiting the construction of his plane by the Bellanca aircraft corporation for the non-stop flight.

They said he has been improving so rapidly that they expect his recovery within a short time.

The police guard which has been stationed around the Edison home since Aug. 1 was removed as a result of the inventor's marked improvement.

plebiscite for dissolution of the Prussian diet were: in favor of dissolution, 9,793,828; against, 362,885.

The number of votes to force dissolution was 13,449,500. The comparatively small number of voters opposing dissolution was explained by the fact that the majority of those against it simply did not vote rather than trouble to go to the polls.

The fascists, most powerful opposition group, supported the plebiscite and it was, to an extent, a test of their political strength. Other parties supporting the dissolution plan were the communist and nationalist, the agrarian Landvolk party, the Protestant Christian social party, the Treviranus popular conservatives and the small German Hanoverian party.

The Prussian government is a coalition of socialists, Catholics and deni-crats. The plebiscite was conducted with only minor disorders reported elsewhere. At Cologne, communists shot and killed Albert Hesiter, a member of the Steel Helmets, a war veterans' organization which initiated the plebiscite.

What! No Ballyhoo?

In this day and age, when reams of advance publicity and ballyhoo seem a vital part of every activity, the totally unheralded flight of Parker Cramer (above) from the North American mainland to Copenhagen by way of Greenland and Iceland is a welcome relief. Hills Bros.' Patented Process
Removes Risk of Ruining
Roast—Assures Match-
less Flavor, Always

Roasting determines the flavor of coffee. Too much or too little can cause dissatisfaction. But there is a perfect degree of roast! Hills Bros. invented and patented a process that insures that degree for every pound. It is called Controlled Roasting.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so a perfect, unvarying degree of roast is secured for Hills Bros. Coffee by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The rare blend passes through the roasters in a steady, unvarying stream. And instead of guessing—as is necessary with ordinary, bulk methods—Hills Bros. control the temperature of the roast automatically. Every berry is perfectly roasted. As a result, every pound has a matchless, unvarying flavor.

To keep this delicious coffee fresh, Hills Bros. pack it in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of the cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

ANXIETY EXPRESSED OVER FLIER CRAMER

A United Press dispatch from Oslo, Norway, states that inquiries along the south coast of Norway today failed to elicit any trace whatever of Parker D. Cramer, American flier, long overdue at Copenhagen on the last lap of a transatlantic flight.

Anxiety grew throughout Scandinavia as hours passed and no word of the flier was heard.

The Rockford, Ill., flier is engaged in mapping out a projected air mail route across the subarctic regions. He hopped off Friday from Reykjavik, Iceland, for the Faroe Islands, nearly lost his life landing at the Islands, reached Sydney Island and left for Berg or Stavanger, Norway, at noon Saturday.

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Capt. Riiser Larsen, famous Norwegian aviator and explorer and chief of the air force at Bergen, was ready today to begin a search for Parker D. Cramer, missing American aviator, when weather conditions permitted.

Capt. Larsen reported that two airplanes were ready to start to Cramer's relief as soon as a storm in the Bergen region moderated and the pilots had any information regarding his possible whereabouts.

It was believed here that Cramer, long overdue at Copenhagen on the last lap of a transatlantic flight, was drifting toward Denmark.

Unfilled Orders of U. S. Steel Corporation Show Decrease in July

New York, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation as of July 31 stood at 3,404,816 tons, a decrease of 74,570 tons from the June 30 total, the corporation announced today.

This total compared with 3,479,323 tons on June 30, 4,022,055 tons on July 31, 1930, and 4,088,177 tons on July 1, 1929. The July figure was the smallest unfilled tonnage of the corporation since October 31, 1927.

HIGH COURT DECIDES HE MUST
ANSWER INVESTIGATING
BODY'S QUESTIONS

AS TO WHETHER HE PAID A
BRIBE TAKEN BY A PUB-LIC OFFICER

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(UP)—The court of appeals today affirmed in part a lower court decision which held William F. Doyle, New York City horse doctor, in contempt.

The high court modified the appellate division's ruling holding Doyle in contempt only as far as it concerned questions as to whether he bribed public officers, but held that the New York City investigating committee is not empowered to give immunity to witnesses.

It cleared the way for the committee to undertake a thorough investigation of municipal conditions in New York.

"The grant of immunity," the decision read, "that the legislative resolution purported to give should be accomplished and would be valid if carried out by law rather than by resolution."

The high court decided that Doyle "must answer as to whether he paid a bribe which was taken by a public officer" or go to jail for 30 days.

He is not required to answer any questions tending to establish a general conspiracy or attempted bribery, however, the high court ruled.

New York, Aug. 10.—Samuel Seabury said today that if his first understanding of the courts of appeals decision in the case of William F. Doyle was confirmed by further study, he would ask Governor Roosevelt to call a special session of the legislature to broaden the powers of the city wide legislative investigating committee.

The counsel to the committee said he was especially anxious to have enacted a law compelling all witnesses to answer all questions.

SHARP INCREASE IN PURCHASES

RETAIL STORES TO DO MORE
MONTH

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Next month will witness a sharp increase in purchases from retail stores, as the average consumer "is under stocked," according to J. D. Currenathers, Oklahoma City, Okla., president of the American Retailers Associations which opened its semi-annual convention here today.

"As soon as fall comes, these consumers will be in the market to buy," Currenathers said, urging merchants to be well stocked with necessities "which most people are in need of."

"One year of depression contributes more to business efficiency than five years of so-called prosperity. During the past year retail business has found more leaks and short cuts, and made greater strides toward putting its house in order than it has made during the past five years," said the association head.

A style show, featuring new shoes, millinery and garment creations will be a daily highlight of the meeting.

NON-STOP FLIGHT ON TO TEGUCIGALPA

CAPT. LISANDRE GARAY LEAVES
FLOYD BENNETT AIR-
PORT, N. Y.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 10.—(UP)—A non-stop flight from the Floyd Bennett airport, New York, to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, was underway today, according to Albert Simon, Wilmington attorney for Captain Lisandre Garay.

Captain Garay started the flight at 5 P. M. yesterday in his plane "Lampira," in what was announced as a test flight at the Floyd Bennett field.

Much concern had been felt for Garay's safety.

The statement from Simon read: "Captain Garay confided to me at the field yesterday afternoon that if he succeeded in getting the plane off the ground with its load he would head south and not land until he reached the capital of his native country."

Captain Garay lived here for about three months awaiting the construction of his plane by the Bellanca aircraft corporation for the non-stop flight.

EDISON TO RETURN TO LABORATORY SOON

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Thomas A. Edison, who has been ill at his home will probably be back at his laboratory in a few weeks, according to his physicians.

They said he has been improving so rapidly that they expect his recovery within a short time.

The police guard which has been stationed around the Edison home since Aug. 1 was removed as a result of the inventor's marked improvement.

NIGHT OF TERROR IN BERLIN IN WHICH RIOTS BETWEEN COM- MUNISTS-POLICE CAUSE ALARM

plebiscite for dissolution of the Prussian diet were: in favor of dissolution, 9,793,828; against, 362,885.

The number of votes to force dissolution was 13,449,500. The comparatively small number of voters opposing dissolution was explained by the fact that the majority of those against it simply did not vote rather than trouble to go to the polls.

The fascists, most powerful opposition group, supported the plebiscite and it was, to an extent, a test of their political strength. Other parties supporting the dissolution plan were the communist and nationalists, the people's party, the economic party, the agrarian Landvolk party, the Protestant Christian social party, the Treviranus popular conservatives and the small German Hannoverian party.

The Prussian government is a coalition of socialists, Catholics and democrats.

The plebiscite was conducted with only minor disorders reported elsewhere. At Cologne, communists shot and killed Albert Heister, a member of the Steel Helmets, a war veterans' organization which initiated the plebiscite.

SUBMARINE NAUTILUS AT TROMSOE, NORWAY

Tromsøe, Norway, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The submarine Nautilus commanded by Sir Hubert Wilkins on a projected under-ice cruise toward the North Pole was here today on its way into the Arctic.

Thirty motorboats escorted the submarine into port, where an enthusiastic crowd cheered its arrival yesterday. Members of the Wilkins expedition said the cruise along the coast of Norway has been uneventful. The Nautilus loaded oil for the next lap of the journey to Spitzbergen.

What! No Ballyhoo?

In this day and age, when reams of advance publicity and ballyhoo seem a vital part of every activity, the totally unheralded flight of Parker Cramer (above) from the North American mainland to Copenhagen by way of Greenland and Iceland is a welcome relief. Reported landed at Angmagssalik, Greenland, Cramer is believed to be mapping an air mail route from the U. S. to Denmark.

"Gemuetlichkeit" is Stressed

PRESIDENT CARL ZAPFFE of the Brainerd Rotary club, who attended the Rotary International convention at Vienna, in his address to the local club stressed the apparent "gemuetlichkeit" of the Austrians which like the Germans distinguishes their national life.

There is time to do things properly and methodically. There is time to eat, to work, to have recreation, to deliberate and to sleep. The great convention, although not one of the largest in Rotary history, was of that convenient size that permits of calm deliberation and that affords to delegates the greatest opportunity to attend the high lights.

Austria offered a rare setting for the convention. Rich in history, in the arts and sciences, in music and poetry, in all things that make life worth living, the nation gave of its best to make the gathering the success it was.

German, English and French were among the ten languages used. T. C. Thomsen of Copenhagen, Denmark, used ten languages in his address. Sydney W. Pascall, of London, newly elected head of International Rotary, used three languages. Interpreters were always handy.

More than 4,000 Rotarians were present from 57 countries. The Vienna convention will be remembered long for the superb quality of its entertainment, and Vienna exceeded all the promises made. In the music offerings the Vienna Symphony orchestra and artist soloists took part. Members of the Vienna State Opera appeared in ballet numbers. State and city government and Rotary cooperated to make the convention a great success.

The gaiety, friendly comradeship and atmosphere of cordiality in Vienna will not soon be forgotten by those privileged to attend.

Edward A. Filene, American merchant, in his address on "World Prosperity and Standards of Living," discussed the manner in which mass production has changed world standards of living and pointed out that unethical competition is bad for all business.

"The whole world is stricken today," he said. "Poverty and unemployment are raging and the social order is threatened, not because anybody wants it so and not because we do not know what the masses need nor how to produce it and not even because it does not pay to fill those needs, for the greatest total profits can be achieved only by doing so—but because we have not yet translated our faith and knowledge into action and organized ourselves to raise the standard of living according to the dictates of business sense and the ideals of Rotary."

"If business must be organized for service, none of us can shirk his responsibility. We cannot violate the eternal law and escape the penalty. If we neglect to organize our own immediate businesses for the most service which they can give, and if we do not do our share in organizing business generally upon the principle of the greatest possible service to the greatest possible number of people, we may find ourselves once more in a war which nobody wants and which only such an organization of business could prevent. The principles to which I have been calling attention are not merely the principles of our most successful industries. They are the principles of success in this machine civilization and none of us, whether he is connected with some great corporation or not, can afford to ignore them."

Rotarians aboard ship coming and going kept up their Rotary deliberations and formed valuable friendships.

Sad Commentary on Poor Driving

A SAD commentary on poor driving is visible from Nisswa north to Pequot on State Trunk Highway No. 19 when one views the destruction wrought by drivers encountering the black and white posts marking highway borders.

In some places posts have been swept clear of their original location, being carried by the car as it swept from the road. In other places one sees stubs of posts. An odd section is near the brow of the hill south of Pequot where a half dozen or more posts have been pushed along until the group stand compact in a bunch at a dizzy angle.

The recently inaugurated campaign against "bright" lights and no lights, or one light, does not seem to have solved this penchant of some motorists to knock down posts. The absence of a cable connecting the posts seems to have been a safety factor as it might slice a car and injure occupants when they crashed the posts.

Air Liner Crashes

THE recent crashes of air liners in England and near Cincinnati, Ohio, caused by stalling motors which deflected the load and tore propellers, leads one to suppose that the same cause may have been present when Knute Rockne met his death.

Four or more motors humming in unison keep the ship on even keel. A sudden stoppage of three out of four as occurred in the case of the English air liner, throws the whole weight on one motor and so disarranges equilibrium that machinery snaps like brittle pipe stems.

In the case of the Rockne plane, we believe ice, the dread of every airman, may have formed as the plane flew in a cold layer of air with the storm clouds hovering near. The motors slowed up suddenly, sputtered unevenly and the crash came.

The governments of all countries examine closely into disasters so as to gain the actual causes and to thus guard against repetitions.

CUYUNA range labor conditions are improving daily. The Mahonmen mine is adding men to take out 150,000 tons. Butler Brothers are shipping from the Alstead mine and are sinking the shaft deeper in their Louise mine. The Evergreen Mining Company will resume operations at the sintering plant and the open pit after being idle for a month.

COMPLAINT has been made to the Dispatch that some tourists, and happily the number of these thoughtless ones is small, turn their cars around in the middle of the block and break other common sense traffic regulations they would never think of committing in their home towns.

Two thousand five hundred bookmakers of Chicago undoubtedly wish Al Capone's plea of guilty had been accepted. Now that Capone is to face trial the Chicago Daily News reports that the bookmakers are being levied on to contribute to Capone's defense fund.

HOME CLINIC PASSES ON BOY FRIEND

Romance, Wedded Life of Lindy and Anne Read Like Fairy Tale

ANNE LEARNS TO FLY

While the world thought Anne would make her Charlie give up flying after their marriage, the world, as it often is, was wrong. Mrs. Lindbergh herself took up flying with so much fervor that upon the first anniversary of their marriage Anne held a pilot's license, a gliding license and, with a few exceptions, had seen more of the world from an airplane than any other woman. Mrs. Lindy, in fact, had only nine hours of instruction from her husband when she took off from a Long Island, N. Y., flying field, making a perfect start and landing as the first step in quest of her pilot's license. Anne was an apt pupil and is an adept airwoman.

ON HONEYMOON

The secrecy with which Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh shrouded their marriage May 27, 1929, was as nothing to the veil of mystery which they drew about their honeymoon. Slipping away in an automobile after their quiet wedding, the famous honeymooners were finally located cruising up the New England coast in a small yacht called the Mouette. Every effort to get interviews or pictures of the pair proved practically fruitless. Lindy and Anne stepping into a personal retirement which brooked no interference. Anne is believed to have done all the cooking on the honeymoon cruise, while the Colonel acted as pilot-skipper-navigator.

FOUR GENERATIONS.

An epochal day in even the exciting lives of Lindy and Anne arrived on the latter's birthday, June 22, 1930, when Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was ushered into the world. Felicitations from all over the globe poured in on the mite and his renowned parents. The first pictures of the child and the selection of his name were two outstanding milestones in his babyhood. The picture shows Charles, Jr., with Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow (left); the child's great-grandmother, Mrs. Charles Long Cutter (center), and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh (right). Colonel promised son, soon after that, that he would have absolute freedom in picking his career.

A Poet and a Cigar

The first American poet, according to Francis C. MacDonald of Princeton university, was Philip Freneau, who became known as "The Poet of the Revolution" for his satirical verse of a political nature. He also wrote a few lyrics in the Eighteenth-century tradition, but was more in the public eye because of the "First Poet" cigar, sold until a few decades ago.

Electrical Measure

A "megohm" is a unit equivalent to a million ohms, used in measuring very high electrical resistances.

Real Dollar Bird

While the term "dollar bird" may be used as a slang name for the American eagle, the real dollar bird is an Australian roller, prevailing blue and black in plumage. It is so called from the large roundish spot of white on its wings, shown in flight.

Simply Old Superstition

The word "lunatic" comes from the Latin word "luna," meaning moon, and it is a old superstition that the moon has a direct effect upon the brain of human beings, hence the superstition that sleeping in the moonlight causes blindness, insanity and kindred calamities. This has long since been disproved by scientific investigation.

Narrow Way Best

The narrow way commands an incomparably wider, and so far as I am concerned, an incomparably fairer prospect than the primrose path.—Aldous Huxley.

Rare Manuscripts

The Congressional library at Washington has a very rare collection of Persian manuscripts dating back to the Ninth century.

Controlling the Nile

Before the flow of the Nile river was controlled by the dam, its average rise was about 5 feet. Thirty feet meant a destructive flood, while 18 feet meant poor crops and starvation. The reservoir behind the dam assures a regulated flow and makes possible the cultivation of 6,000,000 acres that were formerly desert.

Masculine Ego

To some men "equality" is a right to feel superior.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Irish Rhymes to Rout Rats

That the old method of ryming rats to death still prevails in parts of Ireland is the belief of those in charge of the National Rat week there. At one time every district of the country had its professional rat rhymer, who wrote short poems, to be inserted in rat holes, "imprimis" the rodents to leave.

"Take Your Time"

Little Johnny had just got to the age when he could climb upon chairs, tables and high furniture, giving his mother near heart failure. One day she discovered him clinging to the top shelf of the kitchen cabinet, examining its contents. Utterly exasperated, Mrs. S— snapped him down and stood him on the floor with such speed that it nearly took his breath away. Looking calmly up at his mother this three-year-old remarked:

"Take your time, mamma."—Rutland Herald.

Ring-Time

It was Shakespeare who first informed us that springtime is ringtime, and it is still true today that more rings are purchased in spring and early summer than at any other season. A well-known London jeweler, in describing the beauty side of selecting rings, says that "long, tapering fingers demand a ring with a large stone in a square or oval setting. This tends to make the fingers look even more slim. Women with short fingers should wear heavy, wide rings."

On the Rhine Steamer

A trip on one of the Rhine steamers, whether on the long picturesque journey from Mainz to Cologne or on the short trip from Dusseldorf to Konigs-winter, is always memorable. Over the rail we watch the shores castle crowned, sometimes shadowed by dark memories, often stirred by thoughts of the great who have known these passing towns, Beethoven at Bonn, also Schumann; Heine at Dusseldorf, Byron at the Drachenfels, Gutenberg at Mainz.

Air Liner Crashes

THE recent crashes of air liners in England and near Cincinnati, Ohio, caused by stalling motors which deflected the load and tore propellers, leads one to suppose that the same cause may have been present when Knute Rockne met his death.

Four or more motors humming in unison keep the ship on even keel. A sudden stoppage of three out of four as occurred in the case of the English air liner, throws the whole weight on one motor and so disarranges equilibrium that machinery snaps like brittle pipe stems.

In the case of the Rockne plane, we believe ice, the dread of every airman, may have formed as the plane flew in a cold layer of air with the storm clouds hovering near. The motors slowed up suddenly, sputtered unevenly and the crash came.

The governments of all countries examine closely into disasters so as to gain the actual causes and to thus guard against repetitions.

CUYUNA range labor conditions are improving daily. The Mahon mine is adding men to take out 150,000 tons. Butler Brothers are shipping from the Alstead mine and are sinking the shaft deeper in their Louise mine. The Evergreen Mining Company will resume operations at the sintering plant and the open pit after being idle for a month.

COMPLAINT has been made to the Dispatch that some tourists, and happily the number of these thoughtless ones is small, turn their cars around in the middle of the block and break other common sense traffic regulations they would never think of committing in their home towns.

Two thousand five hundred bookmakers of Chicago undoubtedly wish Al Capone's plea of guilty had been accepted. Now that Capone is to face trial the Chicago Daily News reports that the bookmakers are being levied on to contribute to Capone's defense fund.

HOME CLINIC PASSES ON BOY FRIEND

Romance, Wedded Life of Lindy and Anne Read Like Fairy Tale

ANNE LEARNS TO FLY

While the world thought Anne would make her Charlie give up flying after their marriage, the world, as it often is, was wrong. Mrs. Lindbergh herself took up flying with so much fervor that upon the first anniversary of their marriage Anne held a pilot's license, a gliding license and, with a few exceptions, had seen more of the world from an airplane than any other woman. Mrs. Lindy, in fact, had only nine hours of instruction from her husband when she took off from a Long Island, N. Y., flying field, making a perfect start and landing as the first step in quest of her pilot's license. Anne was an apt pupil and is an adept airwoman.

ON HONEYMOON

The secrecy with which Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh shrouded their marriage May 27, 1929, was as nothing to the veil of mystery which they drew about their honeymoon. Slipping away in an automobile after their quiet wedding, the famous honeymooners were finally located cruising up the New England coast in a small yacht called the Mouette. Every effort to get interviews or pictures of the pair proved practically fruitless. Lindy and Anne stepping into a personal retirement which brooked no interference. Anne is believed to have done all the cooking on the honeymoon cruise, while the Colonel acted as pilot-skipper-navigator.

FOUR GENERATIONS.

An epochal day in even the exciting lives of Lindy and Anne arrived on the latter's birthday, June 22, 1930, when Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was ushered into the world. Felicitations from all over the globe poured in on the mite and his renowned parents. The first pictures of the child and the selection of his name were two outstanding milestones in his babyhood. The picture shows Charles, Jr., with Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow (left); the child's great-grandmother, Mrs. Charles Long Cutter (center); and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh (right). The Colonel promised his son, soon after birth, that he would give him absolute freedom in picking his career.

A Poet and a Cigar

The first American poet, according to Francis C. MacDonald of Princeton university, was Philip Freneau, who became known as "The Poet of the Revolution" for his satirical verse of a political nature. He also wrote a few lyrics in the eighteenth-century tradition, but was more in the public eye because of the "First Poet" cigar, sold until a few decades ago.

Electrical Measure

A "megohm" is a unit equivalent to a million ohms, used in measuring very high electrical resistances.

Real Dollar Bird

While the term "dollar bird" may be used as a slang name for the American eagle, the real dollar bird is an Australian roller, prevailing blue and black in plumage. It is so called from the large roundish spot of white on its wings, shown in flight.

Simply Old Superstition

The word "lunatic" comes from the Latin word "luna," meaning moon, and it is a old superstition that the moon has a direct effect upon the brain of human beings, hence the superstition that sleeping in the moonlight causes blindness, insanity and kindred calamities. This has long since been disproved by scientific investigation.

Narrow Way Best

The narrow way commands an incomparably wider, and so far as I am concerned, an incomparably fairer prospect than the primrose path.—Mildred Huxley.

Rare Manuscripts

The Congressional library at Washington has a very rare collection of Persian manuscripts dating back to the Ninth century.

Controlling the Nile

Before the flow of the Nile river was controlled by the dam, its average rise was about 5 feet. Thirty feet meant a destructive flood, while 18 feet meant poor crops and starvation. The reservoir behind the dam assures a regulated flow and makes possible the cultivation of 6,000,000 acres that were formerly desert.

Masculine Ego

To some men "equality" is a right to feel superior.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Irish Rhymes to Rout Rats

That the old method of rhyming rats to death still prevails in parts of Ireland is the belief of those in charge of the National Rat week there. At one time every district of the country had its professional rat rhymers, who wrote short poems, to be inserted in rat holes, imploring the rodents to leave.

"Take Your Time"

Little Johnny had just got to the age when he could climb upon chairs, tables and high furniture, giving his mother near heart failure. One day she discovered him clinging to the top shelf of the kitchen cabinet, examining its contents. Utterly exasperated, Mrs. S— snapped him down and stood him on the floor with such speed that it nearly took his breath away. Looking calmly up at his mother this three-year-old remarked: "Take your time, mamma."—Rutland Herald.

Ring-Time

It was Shakespeare who first informed us that springtime is ringtime, and it is still true today that more rings are purchased in spring and early summer than at any other season. A well-known London jeweler, in describing the beauty side of selecting rings, says that "long, tapering fingers demand a ring with a large stone in a square or oval setting. This tends to make the fingers look even more slim. Women with short fingers should wear heavy, wide rings."

On the Rhine Steamer

A trip on one of the Rhine steamers, whether on the long picturesque journey from Mainz to Cologne or on the short trip from Dusseldorf to Konigs-winter, is always memorable. Over the rail we watch the shores castle crowned, sometimes shadowed by dark memories, often stirred by thoughts of the great who have known these passing towns. ST. LOUIS HOLDS 8-GAME MARGIN
IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, Aug. 10.—St. Louis and Philadelphia, respective leaders in the National and American League pennant races, lost ground to their rivals during the past week but despite the slumps the pace-setters appear virtually certain of meeting in the 1931 world series.

Philadelphia closed the week with a 10-game lead over its nearest rivals and St. Louis holds an eight-game margin in the National League, although neither team was among the leaders in games won during the week starting Sunday, Aug. 3 and closing Sunday, Aug. 9.

Philadelphia, with three victories and two defeats, tied with the second place Washington club for their honors in the American League with the eighth place Detroit Tigers turning in the best record of the week, four victories and two defeats.

The Chicago Cubs set the pace in the National League with five victories and two defeats—both of which were at the hands of the league leading St. Louis Cardinals who took second honors with four victories and two defeats.

Boston's Red Sox and the Cincinnati Reds had the poorest records for the week, Boston earning eighth place among American League teams with five defeats and one victory, while Cincinnati dropped further into the National League cellar with two victories against seven defeats.

St. Louis had the best offensive and defensive record in the senior league with 49 scored to 16 for their opponents, while the Chicago White Sox were the American League's high scorers with 33 runs, and the Washington Senators the best defensive team with 13 runs for their opponents in five games.

Al Simmons of the Philadelphia Athletics moved into the major league batting lead with a total of 382, Babe Ruth of the Yankees falling to 380. Ruth, however, added two more home runs to his total and now is only one home run behind his teammate Gehrig who leads the two leagues with 31. Chuck Klein, National League leader, collected three circuit blows during the week and ran his total to 26.

Records for the week with games won and lost, runs scored and opponents' runs follow:

ONLY 1 MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CONTEST TODAY

CHICAGO TO MEET PITTSBURGH
IN A POSTPONED
GAME

NUMEROUS FINE GAMES WERE PITCHED, BURKE TAKING
TOP HONORS

By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—With only one major league baseball game scheduled today—Chicago meeting Pittsburgh in a postponed contest—fans took time out to consider the remarkable pitching performances of the past week-end.

Numerous fine games were pitched with Bobo Burke of Washington taking top honors with a hitless shutout of Boston on Saturday to join Wes Ferrell of Cleveland as 1931's no-hit pitchers.

Boy Bush of the Chicago Cubs and Dick Coffman of the St. Louis Browns missed no-hit honors by a narrow margin on Sunday in turning in one-hit games against the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox respectively.

A first inning scratch single by George Watkins prevented Bush from reaching baseball's hall of fame and a clean single in the fifth inning by Johnny Kerr robbed Coffman of a perfect game. Both pitchers won their games by 1 to 0 scores, Paul Derringer giving Bush a stiff argument and losing on a home run by Vince Barton, Cubs' rookie outfielder. Bob Weiland, a recalled minor leaguer, pitched fine ball against Coffman but allowed nine hits, two of which were paired in the sixth for the Browns' run.

The defeat by Chicago cut St. Louis' National League lead to 8 games, with the second place New York Giants scoring a 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn.

Fred Fitzsimmons retired the first 15 Brooklyn batters in order but let down after securing a 7-run lead.

The Boston Braves won both games of a double-header with Philadelphia, 5 to 4 and 6 to 3. Ed Brandt scored his fourteenth victory of the year in the first game when his mates came from behind to overcome a four-run disadvantage, and Willie Sherdel out-pitched three Phillies twirlers in the second.

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh divided a twin bill, the Reds taking the first, 6 to 2 and Pittsburgh the second, 8 to 4. Cincinnati scored six runs after two were out in the seventh inning to take the first game, and the Pirates retaliated by scoring all of their runs in the second game after two were out with a four-run assault in the fourth clinching the contest.

Strong relief pitching by Lefty Grove enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to break a two-game losing streak by defeating New York, 5 to 3. Grove entered the game in the seventh after the Yanks had scored three runs off Mahaffey and Walberg, and held the Yankees in check for the balance of the tilt, but credit for the victory went to Mahaffey.

Washington kept pace by defeating Boston, 4 to 3. The Senators came from behind to tie the score in the ninth and won out in the tenth on singles by Brown and Myer, and a fly by Manush.

St. Louis got no better than an even break with Chicago despite Coffman's one-hit performance. In the first game of the double-header, Pat Caraway held the Browns to five hits to win, 4 to 2.

Detroit won a slugging duel from Cleveland, 8 to 8. The Indians came from behind to tie the score but were halted by Uhle after Detroit forged ahead with two runs in the eighth.

COLONELS IN THIRD PLACE

DISPLACE COLUMBUS TEAM AF-TER THEY WIN DOUBLE-
HEADER

(By United Press)
Louisville today had displaced Columbus for third position in the American Association standings after the Colonels had won a double header while Columbus was losing one.

The league-leading St. Paul club was the downfall of Columbus, 9 to 5 and 9 to 7. The Saints made only nine hits off Eckert, Littlejohn and Rose, while Nichols allowed Columbus twelve hits in the second game, but the Saints made their hits when they needed them.

Louisville started out its program with Milwaukee by making five runs in the opening inning, and from there sailed on to victories with scores of 10 to 7 and 8 to 3. Carl Mays, pitching his first game for Louisville, held the Brewers to six hits in the second game.

Indianapolis took both ends of its bill with Kansas City, 5 to 4 and 6 to 0. Yesterday was a day with no split honors and even the lowly Toledo club broke out with a couple of victories, coming just that much closer to relinquishing the cellar position in favor of Minneapolis. Johnny Cooney allowed the Millers only four hits while Toledo was winning 5 to 1. In the second game six Toledo pitchers let Minneapolis have 13 hits, but Toledo batters hit the three Miller mounds-men for 14, and Toledo took the game 11 to 9.

JACK SHARKEY
"THE MYSTERY MAN OF THE RING" -- HIS
STRANGELY APATHETIC SHOWING AGAINST
WALKER ADDED ANOTHER
QUEER CHAPTER TO HIS
WEIRD FISTIC CAREER!

© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

WITHOUT a doubt, the most puzzling fistic enigma of our era, and perhaps of any era, is Jack Sharkey. The wise boys just can't figure him out.

Sharkey looked like a champ against Wills, and in his next fight, against McTigue, he looked like a champ. He flashed great exhibitions against Maloney and Dempsey only to fizzle again in the Heeneey and Risiko imbroglios. He failed to show much ambition against Stribling, and then dumped the wise boys as usual by belting out Loughran with ease. This great showing was followed by another bust—the Miami fiasco with Scott; after which the Bostonian went on to hand Schmeling a fearful hiding and undoubtedly would have smacked Max down but for the famous "foul brawl."

And now, on top of all this, Jack proceeds to let the experts down once more, fooling around with the puffing, under-sized Walker for 15 rounds with a bored expression on his pan.

Sharkey has one of the best left hooks in the business, and yet he deliberately held back this punch against Walker after one left hook had sent the lighter man careening against the ropes in the second round. Jack is an experienced and efficient body puncher, and yet made no attempt to work on Walker's flabby midriff. He possesses one of the best short right hands in captivity, but against Kearns' pride and joy he was careful to use only a long sweeping right swing which he would wrap harmlessly around Walker's neck when the smaller man crouched. And he did everything but wave a red flag before letting these right-hand wallopers go.

What's the answer? In his first fight in New York, Sharkey was charged with carrying Eddie Huffman for ten rounds—he just couldn't get mad at little Eddie!

He was characteristically apathetic against both Heeneey and Stribling with a shot at the title hanging in the balance and, as Bill Corum remarked, he was entirely too amiable in the Walker affair.

Another famous New York fight scribe summed up the situation in these words: "Why Sharkey, with everything in his favor and his future at stake, did not step out and fight instead of fooling around is just one more mystery in a sport which has already had more than its share."

Philadelphia closed the week with a 10-game lead over its nearest rivals and St. Louis holds an eight-game margin in the National League, although neither team was among the leaders in games won during the week starting Sunday, Aug. 3 and closing Sunday, Aug. 9.

Philadelphia, with three victories and two defeats, tied with the second place Washington club for their honors in the American League with the eighth place Detroit Tigers turning in the best record of the week, four victories and two defeats.

The Chicago Cubs set the pace in the National League with five victories and two defeats—both of which were at the hands of the league leading St. Louis Cardinals who took second honors with four victories and two defeats.

Boston's Red Sox and the Cincinnati Reds had the poorest records for the week, Boston earning eighth place among American League teams with five defeats and one victory, while Cincinnati dropped further into the National League cellar with two victories against seven defeats.

St. Louis had the best offensive and defensive record in the senior league with 49 scored to 16 for their opponents, while the Chicago White Sox were the American League's high scorers with 33 runs, and the Washington Senators the best defensive team with 13 runs for their opponents in five games.

Al Simmons of the Philadelphia Athletics moved into the major league batting lead with a total of 382, Babe Ruth of the Yankees falling to 380. Ruth, however, added two more home runs to his total and now is only one home run behind his teammate Gehrig who leads the two leagues with 31.

Records for the week with games won and lost, runs scored and opponent's runs follow:

ONLY 1 MAJOR LEAGUE BALL CONTEST TODAY

CHICAGO TO MEET PITTSBURGH
IN A POSTPONED
GAME

NUMEROUS FINE GAMES WERE PITCHED, BURKE TAKING
TOP HONORS

By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—With only one major league baseball game scheduled today—Chicago meeting Pittsburgh in a postponed contest—fans took time out to consider the remarkable pitching performances of the past week-end.

Numerous fine games were pitched with Bobo Burke of Washington taking top honors with a hitless shutout of Boston on Saturday to join Wes Ferrell of Cleveland as 1931's no-hit pitchers.

Buy Bush of the Chicago Cubs and Dick Coffman of the St. Louis Browns missed no-hit honors by a narrow margin on Sunday in turning in one-hit games against the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox respectively.

A first inning scratch single by George Watkins prevented Bush from reaching baseball's hall of fame and a clean single in the fifth inning by Johnny Kerr robbed Coffman of a perfect game. Both pitchers won their games by 1 to 0 scores, Paul Derringer giving Bush a stiff argument and losing on a home run by Vince Barton, Cuba's rookie outfielder. Bob Weiland, a recalled minor leaguer, pitched nine ball against Coffman but allowed nine hits, two of which were paired in the sixth for the Browns' run.

The defeat by Chicago cut St. Louis' National League lead to 8 games, with the second place New York Giants scoring a 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn.

Fred Fitzsimmons retired the first 15 Brooklyn batters in order but let down after securing a 7-run lead.

The Boston Braves won both games of a double-header with Philadelphia, 5 to 4 and 6 to 3. Ed Brandt scored his fourteenth victory of the year in the first game when his mates came from behind to overcome a four-run disadvantage, and Willie Sherdel out-pitched three Phillies twirlers in the second.

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh divided a twin bill, the Reds taking the first, 6 to 2 and Pittsburgh the second, 8 to 4. Cincinnati scored six runs after two were out in the seventh inning to take the first game, and the Pirates retaliated by scoring all of their runs in the second game after two were out with a four-run assault in the fourth clinching the contest.

Strong relief pitching by Lefty Grove enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to break a two-game losing streak by defeating New York, 5 to 3. Grove entered the game in the seventh after the Yankees had scored three runs off Mahaffey and Walberg, and held the Yankees in check for the balance of the tilt, but credit for the victory went to Mahaffey.

Washington kept pace by defeating Boston, 4 to 3. The Senators came from behind to tie the score in the ninth and won out in the tenth on singles by Brown and Myer, and a fly by Manush.

St. Louis got no better than an even break with Chicago despite Coffman's one-hit performance. In the first game of the double-header, Pat Caraway held the Browns to five hits to win, 4 to 2.

Detroit won a slugfest duel from Cleveland, 8 to 8. The Indians came from behind to tie the score but were halted by Uhl after Detroit forged ahead with two runs in the eighth.

COLONELS IN THIRD PLACE

DISPLACE COLUMBUS TEAM AFTER THEY WIN DOUBLE-HEADER

(By United Press)

Louisville today had displaced Columbus for third position in the American Association standings after the Colonels had won a double header while Columbus was losing one.

The league-leading St. Paul club was the downfall of Columbus, 9 to 5 and 9 to 7. The Saints made only nine hits off Eckert, Littlejohn and Rose, while Nichols allowed Columbus twelve hits in the second game, but the Saints made their hits when they needed them.

Louisville started out its program with Milwaukee by making five runs in the opening inning, and from there sailed on to victories with scores of 10 to 7 and 8 to 3. Carl Mays, pitching his first game for Louisville, held the Brewers to six hits in the second game.

Indianapolis took both ends of its bill with Kansas City, 5 to 4 and 6 to 0.

Yesterday was a day with no split honors and even the lowly Toledo club broke out with a couple of victories, coming just that much closer to relinquishing the cellar position in favor of Minneapolis. Johnny Cooney allowed the Millers only four hits while Toledo was winning 5 to 1. In the second game six Toledo pitchers let Minneapolis have 13 hits, but Toledo batters hit the three Miller moundmen for 14, and Toledo took the game 11 to 9.

The Mystery Man

By HARDIN BURNLEY

WITHOUT a doubt, the most puzzling fistic enigma of our era, and perhaps of any era, is Jack Sharkey. The wise boys just can't figure him out.

Sharkey looked like a champ against Wills, and in his next fight, against McTigue, he looked like a champ. He flashed great exhibitions against Maloney and Dempsey only to fizzle again in the Heeney and Risko imbroglios. He failed to show much ambition against Stribling, and then dumped the wise boys as usual by belting out Loughran with ease. This great showing was followed by another bust—the Miami fiasco with Scott; after which the Bostonian went on to hand Schmeling a fearful hiding and undoubtedly would have smacked Max down but for the famous "foul brawl."

And now, on top of all this, Jack proceeds to let the experts down once more, fooling around with the puffing, under-sized Walker for 15 rounds with a bored expression on his pan.

Sharkey has one of the best left hooks in the business, and yet he deliberately held back this punch against Walker after one left hook had sent the lighter man careening against the ropes in the second round. Jack is an experienced and efficient body puncher, and yet made no attempt to work on Walker's flabby midriff. He possesses one of the best short right hands in captivity, but against Kearns' pride and joy he was careful to use only a long sweeping right swing which he would wrap harmlessly around Walker's neck when the smaller man crouched. And he did everything but wave a red flag before letting these right-hand wallops go.

What's the answer? In his first fight in New York, Sharkey was charged with carrying Eddie Hufman for ten rounds—he just couldn't get mad at little Eddie!

He was characteristically apathetic against both Heeney and Stribling with a shot at the title hanging in the balance and, as Bill Corum remarked, he was entirely too amiable in the Walker affair.

Another famous New York fight scribe summed up the situation in these words: "Why Sharkey, with everything in his favor and his future at stake, did not step out and fight instead of fooling around is just one more mystery in a sport which has already had more than its share."

PISTOL TEAM SHOOT THURSDAY

Minneapolis Baby is Baptized at Camp Ripley Military Church Services

Approximately 20,000 persons, the largest group to witness events at Minnesota's new military reservation since its establishment, attended events of "Visitors and Oldtimers Day" at the encampment of the 135th Infantry today.

The program at Camp Ripley which attracted the huge gathering found its high point in the afternoon parade and review, which found the great parade ground lined with thousands of cars and their occupants, with other spectators who could not get their machines to the edge of the field swarming to it from nearby parking places. The review was taken by Col. Ronningen, commanding officer, and a group of "oldtimers", former officers and men of the regiment, led by Col. T. J. Rogers, Infantry, U. S. A., retired. Col. Rogers served for several years after the war as senior regular army instructor of the regiment. He was also serenaded by the 135th Infantry band with a concert in front of Col. Ronningen's quarters in the evening.

Other events of the day which attracted most of the crowd were guard mounts by Howitzer company of Stillwater, which had had to mound guard informally Thursday because of the rain, with Capt. Swenson as officer of the day and Company F of Owatonna, whose regular tour began in the evening with Lieut. George Barker as officer of the day and Lieut. Robert E. Toher as commander of the guard.

Almost the entire regiment, with hundreds of visitors, despite the earliness of the hour, attended the military church services which followed breakfast in the morning. The service was climaxed by the baptism of Roy Allburt McCulloch, infant son of Sgt. and Mrs. Frank C. McCulloch of 3425 Queen avenue North, Minneapolis. Sgt. McCulloch is a member of Service company, Capt. B. A. Anderson, commanding officer of Service company, and Miss Marian Wise of Minneapolis were sponsors. Capt. Alfred E. Koenig, active chaplain of the regiment, presided at both the christening and the other features of the religious services, delivering a sermon "And Lean Not Upon Thine Own Understanding."

A platoon of Howitzer company staged a trench mortar and 37-millimetre gun demonstration during the afternoon, while squads of Company M of Appleton presented a machine gun demonstration. Company messes took care of scores of visitors from home stations of the 19 units at dinner at noon and concerts by the 135th Infantry band, directed by Warrant Officer John P. Rossiter, retired, of Minneapolis, attracted most of the visitors.

The annual rifle team match will be held today with Capt. Owen J. Trainor's Company C team of Minneapolis, including a group of veteran shots who hold the Minnesota national guard championship, classed as favorites to repeat. Company B of Aitkin, commanded by Lieut. Wilmer Knight while Capt. J. A. Petrosburg is serving as regimental adjutant, is also given a chance to win. Company F of Owatonna, second in 1929, will bar its commissioned officer who are among the first seven shots and will enter an all-enlisted man's team, which Capt. Hugh H. Soper is grooming as contenders for 1931 and as champions as a number of new shots are developed for 1932.

Automatic rifle firing will be stressed on the rifle range after the team shoot, although no competition is slated with this weapon. The annual pistol team shoot will be held Thursday, several company teams having entered the campaign to unseat Company D of Minneapolis as champion.

Good Blacksmith, but Not "Long" on Spelling

A few days ago a friend and I were talking about it was too bad that most of the men well skilled in the old hand trades were disappearing from rural communities. The friend spoke of a local shoe cobbler whose trade had been handed down two or three generations, and who could make shoes that would outwear any machine-made shoe that could be purchased. Another trade that is largely gone is the old-fashioned blacksmith. Some one from Connecticut wrote me recently of a Yankee blacksmith, long on horseshoeing but short on book learning. This blacksmith had a sign posted up about which our friend writes as follows:

"I wanted a copy of that sign very much so I took a child's sled as an excuse and went to the blacksmith shop. While the sled was being repaired, I asked the blacksmith, with some misgiving, if I might copy his sign. 'Why, sure,' he said, 'go ahead and copy. I cannot see why, but folks have been coming here to copy it, from all over, ever since I hung it up.' And here is what the sign said:

Work done here with little speed
Satisfaction guaranteed
Horseshoeing two in my line
That will stand the wear and tare of time.

Explaining Origin of American Dollar Sign

In l'Annuaire des Temps Nouveaux, Charles Prince explains for French readers the origin of the American dollar sign. He relates that Spain, in the fifteenth century, when practically all the world's gold was carried to the Iberian peninsula from the mines of South America, designed a coin of eight reals' value which bore on one of its faces a representation of two columns (the columns of Hercules) intertwined by a ribbon in the form of a letter S bearing the inscription, "Plus Ultra." Englishmen called these coins "pillar dollars," taking the word dollar from the German coin known as a "thaler." When the United States congress in 1787 decided to strike a coin known as a dollar, with the same value as the Spanish "pillar dollar," accountants naturally used as the sign for this new coin the old device of pillars intertwined with a garland which is so well known today in the form of an S with a double bar.—Exchange.

Ancient British Clock

One of the oldest clocks in England was recently salvaged and placed in the north transept of Salisbury cathedral. It dates back to 1386, and was originally in a bell tower in the close, built around 1258. This ancient time-piece, made of handwrought iron without a dial, proclaimed only the hours. In 1790 the clock was removed to the central tower of the cathedral, where it lay hidden, neglected and forgotten, its days of usefulness apparently at an end. In 1884 a new clock took its place. The recent discovery of the old clock and its reconstruction, however, has given it a proud place once more.

Mesh Stockings Regarded Comfortable for Sports

Do you like lisle for sports stockings? Many women do, because it looks less dressed up and formal. Do you like mesh for sports stockings? Its open work seems next most comfortable to bare legs. Lisle and mesh conspire, therefore, to make comfortable, good looking stockings to go with sports costumes. And lisle mesh socks are a joy for tennis.

Socks continue to be worn for active sports, but usually over stockings. Bare legs may be worn for comfort, but only in private and informal places.

With the white clothes and the bright colors you will be wearing this summer you will find that a light clear beige is most becoming. This is the shade that tones best with your outdoor-darkened skin.

Women at Palm Beach adopted this shade almost universally in the daytime. In the evening they wore paler tones—nude and peach.

HATS OF ALL SIZES APPROVED BY PARIS

There is nothing monotonous about hat fashions this summer. Sizes range from mere skull caps to cape lines, with brims a foot wide. There is as much variety in shapes as in sizes and more materials involved than there is room to list. Soft, fabriclike straws, crocheted or mesh straws are being used for new versions of the beret, and to make crowns for some of the brimmed hats. The familiar panama, bako, milan, leghorn and other well knowns are making all manner of brimmed hats. Stitching is used to give body to cotton and linen hats and to decorate brimmed sports hats of jersey and felt.

Among the small hats Agnes' French colonial creations and Suzanne Talbot's derby-brimmed hats are of particular interest. Agnes has taken the various headgears and hair dresses of the Moroccans, the Algerians, the Cambodians and translated them in a collection of peaked and wrapped and draped turbans and berets that are enormously smart. Furthermore, she has taken over the brilliant and exotic colorings that distinguish the original models.

DOWNWARD TREND OF BUSINESS IS CHECKED IN JULY

Washington, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—The downward trend of business in greater than seasonal proportions during June was checked somewhat in early July, the commerce department reported today in its survey of current business.

Among more favorable factors in June cited by the report was a retardation in the rate of decline of wholesale prices which turned into a temporary rise early in July. Security prices also advanced during most of June. This the department ascribed to President Hoover's debt moratorium plan, but the trend was reversed with the beginning of July.

Another favorable development was an apparent halt in business failures. The number of failures in June was the smallest for any month since September, 1930, and June was the only month since November, 1930, in which there was not an increase in failures over the previous month.

There were relatively sharp recessions among manufacturing industries in the output of iron and steel and in automobile production but textile activity was maintained close to seasonal levels and was well above June a year ago.

Held for Questioning in Death of Fox Lake Cheese Factory Owner

Juneau, Wis., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Albert Schroeder, 59, former prisoner at Waupun, was held today for questioning in connection with the death of John Sieber, 45, Fox Lake cheese factory owner.

Sheriff Henry Lehman said he would ask a first degree murder warrant for Schroeder.

Sieber was found Sunday in his factory living quarters with a bullet wound in his temple. He was lying on a couch. He was known to carry a considerable amount of money.

Arrested at Red Granite, Schroeder denied the killing but said he knew two men who were implicated.

A coroner's jury finding the barrel of Sieber's shotgun was too long for a suicide returned a verdict of murder. Schroeder was released from Waupun prison two years ago after serving a sentence on murder charges.

PISTOL TEAM SHOOT THURSDAY

Minneapolis Baby is Baptized at Camp Ripley Military Church Services

Approximately 20,000 persons, the largest group to witness events at Minnesota's new military reservation since its establishment, attended events of "Visitors and Oldtimers Day" at the encampment of the 135th Infantry today.

The program at Camp Ripley which attracted the huge gathering found its high point in the afternoon parade and review, which found the great parade ground lined with thousands of cars and their occupants, with other spectators who could not get their machines to the edge of the field swarming to it from nearby parking places. The review was taken by Col. Ronningen, commanding officer, and a group of "oldtimers," former officers and men of the regiment, led by Col. T. J. Rogers, Infantry, U. S. A., retired. Col. Rogers served for several years at the camp as senior regular army instructor of the regiment. He was also serenaded by the 135th Infantry band with a concert in front of Col. Ronningen's quarters in the evening.

Other events of the day which attracted most of the crowd were guard mounts by Howitzer company of Stillwater, which had to mound guard informally Thursday because of the rain, with Capt. Swenson as officer of the day and Company F of Owatonna, whose regular tour began in the evening with Lieut. George Barker as officer of the day and Lieut. Robert E. Toher as commander of the guard.

Almost the entire regiment, with hundreds of visitors, despite the earliness of the hour, attended the military church services which followed breakfast in the morning. The service was climaxed by the baptism of Roy All-burt McCulloch, infant son of Sergt. and Mrs. Frank C. McCulloch of 3425 Queen avenue North, Minneapolis. Sergt. McCulloch is a member of Service company. Capt. B. A. Anderson, commanding officer of Service company, and Miss Marian Wise of Minneapolis were sponsors. Capt. Alfred E. Koenig, active chaplain of the regiment, presided at both the christening and the other features of the religious services, delivering a sermon "And Lean Not Upon Thine Own Understanding."

A platoon of Howitzer company staged a trench mortar and 37-millimetre gun demonstration during the afternoon, while squads of Company M of Appleton presented a machine gun demonstration. Company messes took care of scores of visitors from home stations of the 19 units at dinner at noon and concerts by the 135th Infantry band, directed by Warrant Officer John P. Rossiter, retired, of Minneapolis, attracted most of the visitors.

The annual rifle team match will be held today with Capt. Owen J. Trainor's Company C team of Minneapolis, including a group of veteran shots who hold the Minnesota national guard championship, classed as favorites to repeat. Company B of Aitkin, commanded by Lieut. Willmer Knight while Capt. J. A. Petraborg is serving as regimental adjutant, is also given a chance to win. Company F of Owatonna, second in 1929, will bar its commissioned officer who are among the first seven shots and will enter an all-enlisted man's team, which Capt. Hugh H. Soper is grooming as contenders for 1931 and as champions as a number of new shots are developed for 1932.

Automatic rifle firing will be stressed on the rifle range after the team shoot, although no competition is slated with this weapon. The annual pistol team shoot will be held Thursday, several company teams having entered the campaign to unseat Company D of Minneapolis as champion.

Good Blacksmith, but Not "Long" on Spelling

A few days ago a friend and I were talking about it was too bad that most of the men well skilled in the old hand trades were disappearing from rural communities. The friend spoke of a local shoe cobbler whose trade had been handed down two or three generations, and who could make shoes that would outwear any machine-made shoe that could be purchased. Another trade that is largely gone is the old-fashioned blacksmith. Some one from Connecticut wrote me recently of a Yankee blacksmith, long on horseshoeing but short on book learning. This blacksmith had a sign posted up about which our friend writes as follows:

"I wanted a copy of that sign very much so I took a child's sled as an excuse and went to the blacksmith shop. While the sled was being repaired, I asked the blacksmith, with some misgiving, if I might copy his sign. 'Why, sure,' he said, 'go ahead and copy. I cannot see why, but folks have been coming here to copy it, from all over, ever since I hung it up.' And here is what the sign said: Work did hear with litten speed Satisfackshun guaranteed Horseshoin two is in my line That will stand the ware and tare of time."

CAPELET SLEEVES

Whether you are migrating to the seashore or country, traveling, or planning to spend the summer in town, you will find one of the new frocks, with brief capelets in place of sleeves, absolutely indispensable. For the country, a model like this one is stunning in white or the palest of pastel crepes, while for town it is equally effective in a more neutral putty or beige or in a new pink. It is just the thing for tea and general afternoon wear and, with its cowl drapery and full skirt, it is sufficiently soft and feminine for occasional, informal dinner and evening wear.

Explaining Origin of American Dollar Sign

In l'Annuaire des Temps Nouveaux, Charles Prince explains for French readers the origin of the American dollar sign. He relates that Spain, in the Fifteenth century, when practically all the world's gold was carried to the Iberian peninsula from the mines of South America, designed a coin of eight reals' value which bore on one of its faces a representation of two columns (the columns of Hercules) intertwined by a ribbon in the form of a letter S bearing the inscription, "Plus Ultra." Englishmen called these coins "pillar dollars," taking the word dollar from the German coin known as a "thaler." When the United States congress in 1787 decided to strike a coin known as a dollar, with the same value as the Spanish "pillar dollar," accountants naturally used as the sign for this new coin the old device of pillars intertwined with a garland which is so well known today in the form of an S with a double bar.—Exchange.

Ancient British Clock

One of the oldest clocks in England was recently salvaged and placed in the north transept of Salisbury cathedral. It dates back to 1386, and was originally in a bell tower in the close, built around 1258. This ancient timepiece, made of handwrought iron with-out a dial, proclaimed only the hours.

In 1790 the clock was removed to the central tower of the cathedral, where it lay hidden, neglected and forgotten, its days of usefulness apparently at an end. In 1884 a new clock took its place. The recent discovery of the old clock and its reconstruction, however, has given it a proud place once more.

Mesh Stockings Regarded Comfortable for Sports

Do you like lisle for sports stockings? Many women do, because it looks less dressed up and formal. Do you like mesh for sports stockings? Its open work seems next most comfortable to bare legs. Lisle and mesh conspire, therefore, to make comfortable, good looking stockings to go with sports costumes. And lisle mesh socks are a joy for tennis.

Socks continue to be worn for active sports, but usually over stockings. Bare legs may be worn for comfort, but only in private and informal places.

With the white clothes and the bright colors you will be wearing this summer you will find that a light clear beige is most becoming. This is the shade that tones best with your outdoor-darkened skin.

Women at Palm Beach adopted this shade almost universally in the daytime. In the evening they wore paler tones—nude and peach.

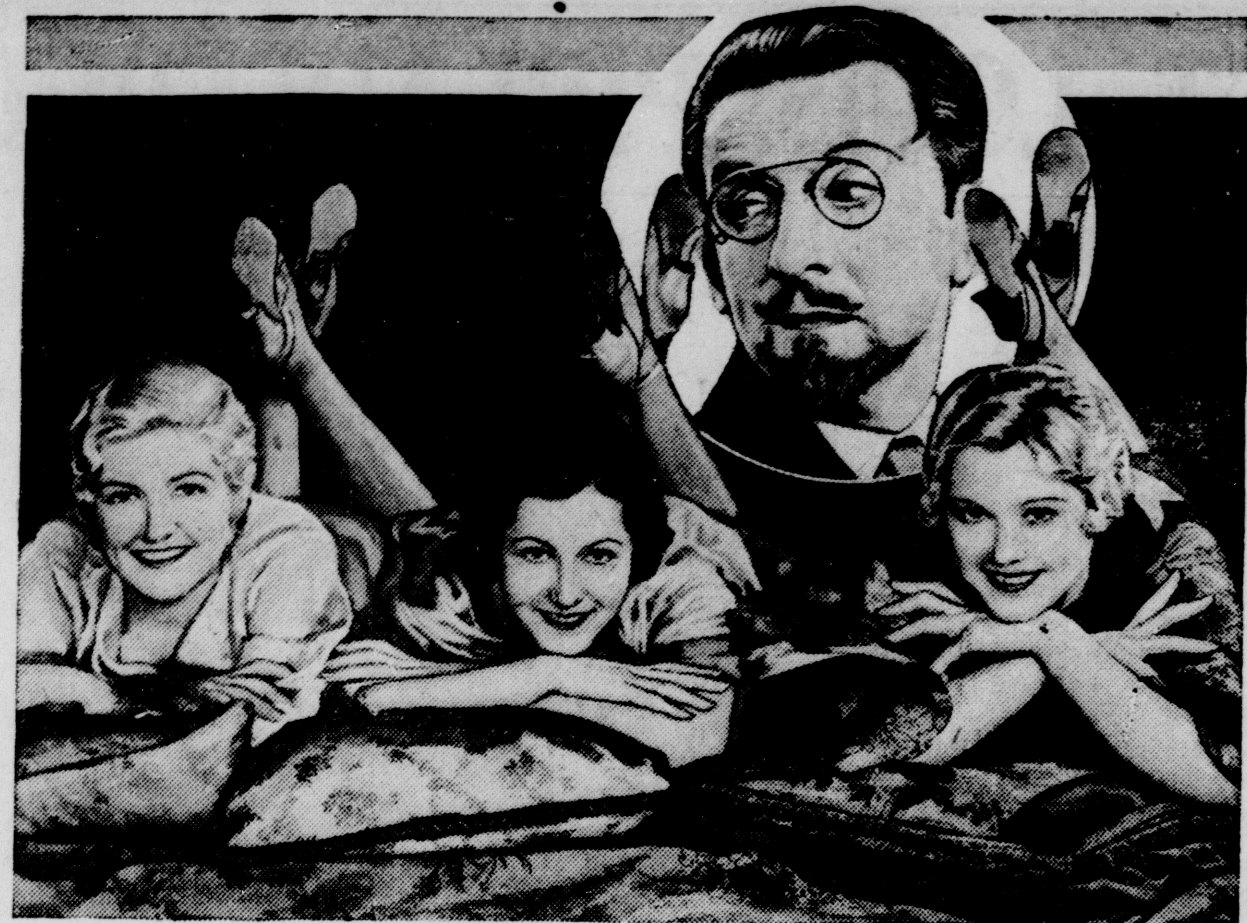

There is talk of white and off-white hose for wear in the evening.

HATS OF ALL SIZES APPROVED BY PARIS

There is nothing monotonous about hat fashions this summer. Sizes range from mere skull caps to cape lines, with brims a foot wide. There is as much variety in shapes as in sizes and more materials involved than there is room to list. Soft, fabriclike straws, crocheted or mesh straws are being used for new versions of the beret, and to make crowns for some of the brimmed hats. The familiar panama, baku, milan, leghorn and other well knowns are making all manner of brimmed hats. Stitching is used to give body to cotton and linen hats and to decorate brimmed sports hats of jersey and felt.

Among the small hats Agnes' French colonial creations and Suzanne Talbot's derby-brimmed hats are of particular interest. Agnes has taken the various headgears and hair dresses of the Moroccans, the Algerians, the Cambodians and translated them in a collection of peaked and wrapped and draped turbans and berets that are enormously smart. Furthermore, she has taken over the brilliant and exotic colorings that distinguish the original models.

DOWNWARD TREND OF BUSINESS IS CHECKED IN JULY

Washington, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—The downward trend of business in greater than seasonal proportions during June was checked somewhat in early July, the commerce department reported today in its survey of current business.

Among more favorable factors in June cited by the report was a retardation in the rate of decline of wholesale prices which turned into a temporary rise early in July. Security prices also advanced during most of June. This the department ascribed to President Hoover's debt moratorium plan, but the trend was reversed with the beginning of July.

Another favorable development was an apparent halt in business failures. The number of failures in June was the smallest for any month since September, 1930, and June was the only month since November, 1930, in which there was not an increase in failures over the previous month.

There were relatively sharp recessions among manufacturing industries in the output of iron and steel and in automobile production but textile activity was maintained close to seasonal levels and was well above June a year ago.

Held for Questioning in Death of Fox Lake Cheese Factory Owner

Juneau, Wis., Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—Albert Schroeder, 59, former prisoner at Wau-pun, was held today for questioning in connection with the death of John Sieber, 45, Fox Lake cheese factory owner.

Sheriff Henry Lehman said he would ask a first degree murder warrant for Schroeder.

Sieber was found Sunday in his factory living quarters with a bullet wound in his temple. He was lying on a couch. He was known to carry a considerable amount of money.

Arrested at Red Granite, Schroeder denied the killing but said he knew two men who were implicated.

A coroner's jury finding the barrel of Sieber's shotgun was too long for a suicide returned a verdict of murder. Schroeder was released from Wau-pun prison two years ago after serving a sentence on murder charges.

Improvement Seen in Condition of Injured County Attorney But Not Out of Danger Yet

CHEST IS CRUSHED

Lungs Punctured; Holds Consciousness and Keeps Cheerful Spirit Despite Pain

A favorable improvement was noted today in the condition of Arthur J. Sullivan but the county attorney's condition remains critical, Dr. J. A. Thabes, Sr., announced today at 11:30 a. m. following a long distance telephone communication with Dr. R. H. Binet of the Grand Rapids hospital.

"I was informed that Mr. Sullivan is showing a favorable improvement but his condition is still serious," Dr. Thabes said.

The head of the Brainerd Clinic was called to the bedside of Mr. Sullivan shortly after his accident near Grand Rapids was reported here. He returned to Brainerd Sunday after conducting the preliminary examination and care of the injured man.

Dr. Thabes announced that the more severe injuries Mr. Sullivan sustained were those to the chest. Several ribs were fractured and his lungs were punctured. There does not appear to be a fracture of the skull, the doctor said.

X-Ray examinations will be made as soon as Sullivan can be moved.

Sullivan was injured Saturday noon when an automobile he was riding in hit a soft spot in the road on Highway No. 35 and the vehicle went into the ditch on its side. It did not overturn.

Sullivan who is exalted ruler of Brainerd Elks was en route with three companions, L. P. Koop, Charles W. Oberg and Ed. Hoffmann, to attend the last session of the State Convention of the lodge at Hibbing. The others escaped with minor bruises. They were unable to give a definite account as to how Sullivan was injured.

Sullivan was riding in the front seat with Koop, driver. Oberg and Hoffmann were in the back seat. The three reported that the car was going slowly at the time of the accident. They remained in the car when it left the road. Sullivan was picked up on the road. Two explanations were offered as to how his injuries occurred, one that he opened the door of the car and jumped as it left the road, the other that the door of the car came open and he was thrown to the highway. Occupants said that at the time of the accident Sullivan was turned around in his seat talking to Oberg and Hoffmann in the back seat.

The car was only slightly damaged. It was returned to Brainerd by its own power Sunday.

Sullivan's condition at first was not regarded as critical. Later he developed a hemorrhage of the lungs. The injured man has remained conscious since the accident and has maintained a cheerful spirit despite the pain, attendants said.

His wife of a fortnight, nee Miss Winnifred Spencer, has remained at the bedside of her husband almost constantly since she arrived at the hospital Saturday afternoon. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spencer and his parents were also at the injured man's bedside. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer returned to Brainerd last evening.

ENTERTAIN CAMP RIPLEY OFFICERS

Rotarians of Brainerd Hosts at Dinner and Program at the Ransford Hotel

Col. Otto L. Ronnigan so Well Pleased Says Camp Should Have Been Located Nearer Brainerd

Brainerd Rotarians Friday evening were hosts to the officers of Camp Ripley at a dinner and program at the Ransford hotel. President Carl Zapffe of the Rotary club presided. After a chicken dinner running several courses starting with salad and soup, well cooked and served, the program got under way. It was of an informal nature and well liked by everybody.

Each Rotarian had an officer as guest and was scheduled to do anything desired. After the entertainment car rides were offered, about town or to the lakes, an evening at the Paramount theatre, or anything else to suit the guest.

President Zapffe said the Rotary club would make it an annual affair to entertain the officers.

A. C. Mraz and Rolland Jenkins sang a group of songs with the piano accompaniment played by Miss Edie Drexler. They got much applause from the audience and gave several encores, concluding with a duet entitled "Roll dem Bones."

William D. Stewart, State Game and Fish Commissioner, former president of St. Paul Rotary club, spoke of the way California and Florida advertise their climate and said Minnesota has the same opportunity. The tourist business of Minnesota has grown until it ranks fourth in importance of state industries and next to California and Florida. In Minnesota flour manufacture, packer products and butter is followed in importance by the tourist business.

"Our woods and lakes give you pleasure and health and they bring money to the state. Game preserves and conservation laws are bringing back the fish and game in these vacation lands. The state has recently completed a project near Thier River Falls, building a dam and restoring fish spawning grounds. The state produced 478,000,000 game fish which is states put together," said Mr. Stewart, more than the output of all the other.

He pleaded with hunters and fishermen to aid in conservation, preservation and cooperation. He mentioned how Canadian provinces are working with American states in unifying game bird provisions and protection.

Mr. Stewart conveyed the message that Governor Floyd B. Olson could not be present and regretted exceedingly his inability to meet with the Rotarians and the officers.

Col. Otto L. Ronnigan of Madison, Minn., commander of the 135th regiment, direct descendant of the First Minnesota, told of the 19 different organizations comprising his command scattered over the state with companies from Stillwater to Madison, Jackson, Austin to Aitkin.

"It's the first time we have been in the new camp at Camp Ripley," said Col. Ronnigan, "and we are well satisfied. It should have been located further north near Brainerd. We appreciate your courtesy, kindness and hospitality in entertaining us."

The colonel described national guard work and at the conclusion of his address asked all citizens to visit the camp.

Queen of Dances

The waltz is said to be the most famous and consistently popular dance in all history. The origin of the waltz is obscured in the dim past. In its modern guise it appeared in 1780, and "Ach du lieber Augustin" is said to be the first tune to which the waltz was danced.

SIX COUNTY 4-H GIRLS, ALTERNATES

Winners of Meet at Little Falls Announced; Receive Trips to State Fair

Eighty-eight Minnesota 4-H club members, including 86 girls and two boys, who have won district championships with their demonstrations or exhibits in bread baking, cake baking, clothing, room furnishing and thrift, will receive free trips to the Minnesota State Fair, next month, the State 4-H Club Office at University Farm announced today. County representatives in the above lines of work competed at sub-district contests where their work was scored by Miss Amy Wessel and Miss Mildred Schenck, state club agents. The highest scoring teams and individuals from the sub-district contests in each district have been chosen to represent that district at the State Fair.

Sixty or more alternates for these trips have also been named, as well as a number of individuals in the thrift project who will be allowed to send their exhibits. A total of 81 clothing teams, 79 bread teams, 63 cake demonstrators and 22 room furnishing demonstrators took part in the sub-district contests. All bread and clothing demonstrations were given by two-girl teams, while the cake, room furnishing and thrift demonstrations and exhibits were the work of individuals.

About 400 girls will participate in the State Fair 4-H program in the home economics projects alone, while scores of others will represent their counties in the health contest or take part in agricultural 4-H work, such as exhibiting and judging livestock or giving agricultural demonstrations.

Cake baking: Gracelda Lewis, Moose Lake, Carlton county; Alice Johnson, Jessie Lake, Itasca county; Alice Biskay, Swatara, Aitkin county.

Alternates, cake baking: Loretta Jordan, Fort Ripley, Crow Wing county; Margaret Anderson, Duluth, St. Louis county.

Clothing: Priscilla Goodell and Florence Stone, Barnum, Carlton county; Florence Schwochert, Deer River, and Rosamund Goltz, Marcell, Itasca county; Lavon Beerbower and Zola Christenson, Hill City, Aitkin county; Charlotte Vann and Jessie Brewer, Duluth, St. Louis county.

Ethel Erickson, Cook, St. Louis county, room furnishing winner, and Rosamund Goltz, Marcell, Itasca county, thrift winner, will have their exhibits at the State Fair, although not receiving a trip.

ENTERTAIN CAMP RIPLEY OFFICERS

Rotarians of Brainerd Hosts at Dinner and Program at the Ransford Hotel

Col. Otto I. Ronnigan so Well Pleased Says Camp Should Have Been Located Nearer Brainerd

Brainerd Rotarians Friday evening were hosts to the officers of Camp Ripley at a dinner and program at the Ransford hotel. President Carl Zapffe of the Rotary club presided. After a chicken dinner running several courses starting with salad and soup, well cooked and served, the program got under way. It was of an informal nature and well liked by everybody.

Each Rotarian had an officer as guest and was scheduled to do anything desired. After the entertainment car rides were offered, about town or to the lakes, an evening at the Paramount theatre, or anything else to suit the guest.

President Zapffe said the Rotary club would make it an annual affair to entertain the officers.

A. C. Mraz and Rolland Jenkins sang a group of songs with the piano accompaniment played by Miss Effie Drexler. They got much applause from the audience and gave several encores, concluding with a duet entitled "Roll dem Bones."

William D. Stewart, State Game and Fish Commissioner, former president of St. Paul Rotary club, spoke of the way California and Florida advertise their climate and said Minnesota has the same opportunity. The tourist business of Minnesota has grown until it ranks fourth in importance of state industries and next to California and Florida. In Minnesota flour manufacture, packer products and butter is followed in importance by the tourist business.

"Our woods and lakes give you pleasure and health and they bring money to the state. Game preserves and conservation laws are bringing back the fish and game in these vacation lands. The state has recently completed a project near Thier River Falls, building a dam and restoring fish spawning grounds. The state produced 478,000,000 game fish which is states put together," said Mr. Stewart.

He pleaded with hunters and fishermen to aid in conservation, preservation and cooperation. He mentioned how Canadian provinces are working with American states in unifying game bird provisions and protection.

Mr. Stewart conveyed the message that Governor Floyd B. Olson could not be present and regretted exceedingly his inability to meet with the Rotarians and the officers.

Col. Otto I. Ronnigan of Madison, Minn., commander of the 135th regiment, direct descendant of the First Minnesota, told of the 19 different organizations comprising his command scattered over the state with companies from Stillwater to Madison, Jackson, Austin to Aitkin.

"It's the first time we have been in the new camp at Camp Ripley," said Col. Ronnigan, "and we are well satisfied. It should have been located further north near Brainerd. We appreciate your courtesy, kindness and hospitality in entertaining us."

The colonel described national guard work and at the conclusion of his address asked all citizens to visit the camp.

of Owatonna, chaplain emeritus, said he had been in service many years. He liked the Rotary club's emphasis placed on display of the flag. Rotarian Clemans then gave an eloquent tribute to the flag.

Lieutenant Colonel Harold Nelson of Owatonna, executive officer of the regiment, said Brainerd would "be closer to Camp Ripley after tonight." He described the insignia of officers.

Major A. C. Birmingham, of Minneapolis, of the regular army, told of his duties as an instructor at the camp. He hoped the pleasant contact and good fellowship established would always continue.

Major L. D. Hughes, of Minneapolis, told of duties pertaining to preserving the health of the command. "We are trying to prevent rather than treat disease," said the doctor.

Major Nils Stadig, of St. Paul, of the regular army, also spoke of his work as an instructor.

Captain Alfred Koenig, chaplain of the regiment, spoke briefly. Captain Koenig is a professor at the University of Minnesota and has spoken at local Rotary meetings on Americanization work and his travels in foreign countries.

In conclusion President Zapffe asked the officers to remember Tuesday noons when the club meets and invited them to attend whenever possible.

Officers in general joined in praising the hospitality of the Rotary club members and voiced their thanks.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. advt.

VAN'S ALLEYS TO OPEN SEPT. 14

ARE NOW IN FINE CONDITION: SEVERAL NEW TEAMS TO BE ENTERED IN LEAGUE

R. J. Koenig, mechanic of Brunswick Bulk Co., has just completed the sanding of alleys and runways at Van's Alleys in the Elks building.

The alleys are in A-1 shape and an A. B. C. sanction will be given them. According to C. C. Van Essen, the alleys will open about September 8 and the league bowling will start about September 14 or not later than September 21.

The walls have been redecorated and a clean atmosphere exists throughout. New rubber mats have also been installed in the pits.

Already several new teams are being organized by merchants who have not promoted teams before.

There will also be a ladies' league with two divisions, A and B, providing handicap play.

A meeting for all bowlers has been tentatively set for September 10 or 11 at which time officers will be elected and leagues organized.

"Instinct" and "Intuition"

Instinct is the term applied to an inherited tendency to perform a specific action in a particular way whenever a situation arises. Intuition, on the other hand, implies the faculty of knowing something beforehand, whether it be mystical, intellectual or moral.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(U.P.)—A robber walked boldly into the lobby of the First National Bank today and, within sight of hundreds of patrons and employees, attempted to snatch a bag containing $406 from Rose Chiesa, cafe cashier.

The young woman hung onto the bag and screamed loudly. Bank guards rushed to her from all directions. The robber fled. He was captured at State and Dearborn streets after one of the special officers fired several shots at him. The man said he was James Martin, 28.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. advt.
